Crossing the Plains with Bruno Annick Smith, 2015-09-15 Dogs like humans have memories instincts fears and loyalties But as far as we know dogs do not get swept up in nostalgia speculation or self analysis Although they have hopes they are not driven by regrets In Crossing the Plains with Bruno Annick Smith weaves together a memoir of travel and relationship western history and family history human love and animal love centering around a two week road trip across the Great Plains she and her 95 pound chocolate lab Bruno took in the summer of 2003 It is a chain of linked meditations often triggered by place about how the past impinges on the present and how the present can exist seemingly sans past Traveling from her rural homestead in Montana to pick up her nearly 100 year old mother from her senior residence on Chicago s North Side and bring her to the family s beach house on a dune overlooking Lake Michigan Smith often gets lost in memory and rambling contemplation Bruno s constant companionship and ever present needs force her to return to the actual reminding her that she too is an animal whose existence depends on being alert to the scents sights hungers and emotions of the moment Passing through wide open spaces dying ranch towns green cornfields and Midwestern hamlets Annick is immersed in memories of her immigrant Hungarian Jewish family her childhood days in Chicago her early marriage and ultimate immigration west Triggered by random encounters along the way she s taken back to life as a young mother her career as a writer and filmmaker who produced the classic A River Runs Through It the death of her husband and the thrill of a late romance A lifetime of reflection played out one mile at a time Crossing the Plains with Bruno is a story narrated by a woman beset by the processes of aging living with the imminent reality of a parent s death but it is the dog that rides shotgun like Sancho Panza to Don Quixote that becomes the reminder of the physical realities outside our own imaginations
