Culture, Courtiers, and Competition David M. Robinson, 2020-03-23 This collection of essays reveals the Ming court as an arena of competition and negotiation where a large cast of actors pursued individual and corporate ends personal agency shaped protocol and style and diverse people goods and tastes converged Rather than observing an immutable set of traditions court culture underwent frequent reinterpretation and rearticulation processes driven by immediate personal imperatives mediated through social political and cultural interaction The essays address several common themes First they rethink previous notions of imperial isolation instead stressing the court s myriad ties both to local Beijing society and to the empire as a whole Second the court was far from monolithic or static Palace women monks craftsmen educators moralists warriors eunuchs foreign envoys and others strove to advance their interests and forge advantageous relations with the emperor and one another Finally these case studies illustrate the importance of individual agency The founder s legacy may have formed the warp of court practices and tastes but the weft varied considerably Reflecting the complexity of the court the essays represent a variety of perspectives and disciplines from intellectual cultural military and political to art history and musicology Monks in Glaze Eileen Hsiang-ling Hsu, 2016-11-21 Monks in Glaze is a complete reassessment of the famous group of large glazed ceramic sculptures known as the Yixian Luohans Drawing upon hitherto unknown epigraphic documents Eileen Hsiang ling Hsu proposes a new date 1511 1519 for the group s production and for the first time identifies the kiln centre near Beijing as its birthplace Removed more than one hundred years ago from a massive grotto in northern China the group s provenance disappeared after its dispersal between 1913 and 1933 Delving into the social and economic issues of religious patronage imperial workshop practice and nuanced style of post Yuan Buddhist art Hsu convincingly shows that such a large group of masterworks were products of well developed commercial economy of the Ming dynasty

Five Thousand Years of Chinese Ceramics from the Robin and R. Randolph Richmond, Jr. Collection Lisa E. Rotondo-McCord, New Orleans Museum of Art, 2005 This volume illustrates one hundred works from a significant and wide ranging collection of Chinese ceramics including works of the Chinese potters art from the Neolithic through the Yuan dynasties approximately 4000 BC through to the 14th century with works from the major traditions and kilns It showcases the extraordinary achievements of Chinese potters in both earthenware and stoneware and in ceramics made for use in this world as well as the afterlife One of the earliest works included is a product of the late phase of the Dawenkou culture c 2800-2400 BC one of China's several co-existing Neolithic cultures characterized by distinctive pottery Examples of funerary art from the Han and Tang dynasties are included and finally Song wares that embody a literati aesthetic
