Ebel, 2014-02-24 Faith in the Fight tells a story of religion soldiering suffering and death in the Great War Recovering the thoughts and experiences of American troops nurses and aid workers through their letters diaries and memoirs Jonathan Ebel describes how religion primarily Christianity encouraged these young men and women to fight and die sustained them through war's chaos and shaped their responses to the war's aftermath The book reveals the surprising frequency with which Americans who fought viewed the war as a religious challenge that could lead to individual and national redemption Believing in a Christianity of the sword these Americans responded to the war by reasserting their religious faith and proclaiming America God chosen and righteous in its mission And while the war sometimes challenged these beliefs it did not fundamentally alter them Revising the conventional view that the war was universally disillusioning Faith in the Fight argues that the war in fact strengthened the religious beliefs of the Americans who fought and that it helped spark a religiously charged revival of many prewar orthodoxies during a postwar period marked by race riots labor wars communist witch hunts and gender struggles For many Americans Ebel argues the postwar period was actually one of reillusionment Demonstrating the deep connections between Christianity and Americans experience of the First World War Faith in the Fight encourages us to examine the religious dimensions of America's wars past and present and to work toward a deeper understanding of religion and violence in American history Book Bulletin ,1918 Second [- ] Report of the Board of Trustees of the American Printing House for the Blind ... Brooklyn Public Library, 1916 The Conning of America Patrick J. Quinn, 2022-06-08 The Conning of America examines for the first time from a literary perspective the propaganda writings produced in the United States during the period of World War I This American propaganda literature was written in two distinct stages the first stage was written by the pro War establishment based on the East Coast of the United States before American entry into the conflict It attempted to vilify Germany and her Allies while at the same time showing England France and Russia as the victims of a well planned organized German plan for world domination beginning with the invasion of neutral Belgium The literature urged the United States to prepare for a German invasion of America and to be wary of German Americans who most likely were spies in the employ of the Imperial German government The second stage of propaganda literature occurred when America declared war on the Central Powers in April 1917 While still using the blood thirsty militaristic Hun as a symbol of German inherent evil the propaganda literature began to portray the Americans as the saviors of European culture American boys were being sent to Europe on a spiritual mission to purify decadent European culture while at the same time their sacrifice would rejuvenate and sanctify American values in the fire of the conflict in order for America to take her proper place in the new post war order      Quarterly Bulletin Brockton Public Library (Brockton, Mass.),1917
