From Canberra To Harare:

Christian Engagement with Islam Douglas Pratt, 2017-04-24 Why did the Christian Church in the twentieth century engage in dialogue with Islam What has been the ecumenical experience What is happening now Such questions underlie Douglas Pratt's Christian Engagement with Islam Ecumenical Journeys since 1910 Pratt charts recent Christian WCC and Vatican engagement with Islam up to the early 21st century and examines the ecumenical initiatives of Africa's PROCURA Building Bridges and the German Christian Muslim Theological Forum together with responses to the 2007 Common Word letter Between them Islam and Christianity represent over half the earth's population Their history of interaction positive and negative impacts widely still today Contentious issues remain real enough yet the story and ongoing reality of contemporary Christian Muslim engagement is both exciting and encouraging

Practices of Dialogue in the Roman Catholic Church Bradford E. Hinze, 2006-01-01

Leaning into the Spirit Virginia Miller, The Most Rev'd. Sir David Moxon, The Rt. Rev'd. Prof. Stephen Pickard, 2019-11-23 This book contains fresh insights into ecumenism and notwithstanding claims of an ecumenical winter affirms the view that we are actually moving into a new ecumenical spring It offers new theological insights in the areas of Christology Pneumatology and Trinitarian theology and discusses developments in ecumenism in the USA UK Australia India and Africa as well as in ecumenical institutions such as the World Council of Churches WCC and the Anglican Roman Catholic Commission ARCIC

Power and Partnership Jonathan S. Barnes, 2013-05-10 While the concept of partnership between churches in the Global North and South has been an ecumenical goal for well over eight decades realizing relationships of mutuality solidarity and koinonia has been to say the least problematic Seeking to understand the dynamics of power and control in these relationships this work traces the history of how partnership has been lived out both as a concept and in practice It is argued that many of the issues that are problematic for partnerships today can find their antecedents during colonial times at the very beginnings of the modern missionary movement For those interested in pursuing cross cultural partnerships today understanding this history and recognizing the use as well as the misuse of power is crucial as we seek genuine relationships of care and friendship in our fractured and divided world

New Frontiers in Contemporary Missiology: Southern African Perspectives Henry Mbaya, 2024-08-22 This book epitomizes the understanding that to excel you have to believe in yourself and your ability to achieve and that part of this process is enabled by mentorship Looking at the history of women in science or academia it is apparent that women have struggled long and hard to be recognised as legitimate scientists or academics and that women of colour are confronted with double jeopardy of both race and gender not only in South Africa but at a global level Gender equity in science or academia and racial diversity are moral and necessary imperatives In academia women are strongly represented in the early phases of their academic careers yet there is an attrition in the number of women who are associate professors and full professors This leaky pipeline not only wastes women's education and potential preventing much needed diversity in academia but more profoundly restricts women s goals and rights      Koinonia and the Quest for an Ecumenical Ecclesiology Lorelei F. Fuchs, 2008 The word koinonia has gained prominence in recent ecumenical discussions In this original and substantial work Lorelei Fuchs proposes the theological idea of koinonia commonly translated as communion or fellowship as the key to moving fractured churches toward a future unity Fuchs challenges churches to move beyond mere dialogue and to apply ecumenical insights at the local level She begins by relating the exegetical meaning of koinonia to its ecumenical meaning tracing the place of koinonia both within the churches and between the churches She then examines the concept of koinonia in the extensive and fruitful dialogues that have taken place between Lutherans Anglicans and Roman Catholics finally articulating a symbolic competence for communionality that provides a rich and workable way forward for church unity at all levels Encompassing the latest in ecumenical thought Koinonia and the Quest for an Ecumenical Ecclesiology provides a broad thoughtful framework for realizing Christ's prayer that all may be one so that the world may believe      The Limits of Peacekeeping:

Volume 4, The Official History of Australian Peacekeeping, Humanitarian and Post-Cold War Operations Jean Bou, Bob Breen, David Horner, Garth Pratten, Miesje de Vogel, 2018-10-10 The Limits of Peacekeeping highlights the Australian government's peacekeeping efforts in Africa and the Americas from 1992 to 2005 Changing world power structures and increased international cooperation saw a boom in Australia's peacekeeping operations between 1991 and 1995 The initial optimism of this period proved to be misplaced as the limits of the United Nations and the international community to resolve deep seated problems became clear There were also limits on how many missions a middle sized country like Australia could support Restricted by the size of the armed forces and financial and geographic constraints peacekeeping was always a secondary task to ensuring the defence of Australia Faith in the effectiveness of peacekeeping reduced significantly and the election of the Howard Coalition Government in 1996 confined peacekeeping missions to the near region from 1996 2001 This volume is an authoritative and compelling history of Australia's changing attitudes towards peacekeeping      Such a

Man Did Live Vinod Victor, Oommen Johnson, Jacob Chandy Varghese, 2016-12-05 A genuine human being whose influence transcended boundaries A family member who was never too busy to be there by the side of each person of his larger home in their times of need A friend who had a special way of touching the souls of those dear to him A parish priest who endeared himself to everyone in the pews and equally to those outside the porticos A bishop close to the hearts of the people A visionary who was willing to go the extra mile to live out the prayer Your kingdom come A master builder whose vision was instrumental in the making of several institutions of repute A church planter whose untiring efforts resulted in the formation of several worshipping communities globally An ecumenical ambassador who lifted the esteem of his people in many a global forum for decades together A Suffragan Metropolitan who vehemently stood for the reformation ethos and traditions of his church while being open to accommodate the demands of changing times Yes Such a Man Did Live      The Church and Other Faiths Douglas Pratt, 2010 This book investigates the coming to be principal features and theological outcomes of interreligious dialogue as an activity of the World Council of Churches WCC and the Roman Catholic Church Vatican The embrace of dialogical engagement represents a dramatic departure from almost two millennia of hostile Christian regard toward other faiths The development of this phenomenon is outlined and explored with research focussed on the work of relevant offices of the WCC and the Vatican during the final four decades of the 20th century A principal task has been to construct a comparative narrative that provides the basis for a close analysis and assessment of policy and practice together with theological reflection and critique A hypothesis of three dimensions or theological moments that constitute a theology of dialogue has both informed and been tested by the undergirding research The conclusion suggests that the more inclusive term interfaith engagement today better encapsulates the ongoing field of concern action and theological reflection with respect to Christian relations to other religions and that a model of transcendental dialogue is now requisite for the future of this engagement

A History of the Ecumenical Movement in Africa James Amanze, 1999 Routledge Handbook on Christian-Muslim Relations David Thomas, 2017-08-16 The matter of Christian Muslim relations cannot be ignored these days While the term itself may not appear all that often relations between the two faiths and their reciprocal perceptions are undeniable influences behind many current conflicts declarations of mutual recognition and peace negotiations not to mention the brooding hatred of religious extremists Since 9 11 relations between the two faiths have in one form or another hardly been away from the news This Handbook contains fundamental information about the major aspects of relations between Christians and Muslims Its various sections follow the history from the early seventh century to the present the major religious issues that have led to disputes between the two faiths and the political implications of religious differences at various stages through history as well as in the present It includes analysis of scriptural and theological themes and explores the characteristics of relations at important points in history and also in various parts of the world today Chapters are devoted to the most significant intellectual interpretations and encounters the main armed clashes including the Crusades and the important documents issued by each faith that in recent years have led the way towards new developments in recognition and acceptance With chapters written by some of the foremost experts in the field the book traces the largely dark history of relations and explains the underlying reasons why Muslims and Christians have found tolerance and respect for the other difficult It is an excellent resource for understanding the past and for highlighting lessons for future relations between the world's two largest religions

World Christianity, 2020-12-15 World Christianity publications proliferate but the issue of methodology has received little attention World Christianity Methodological Considerations addresses this lacuna and explores the methodological ramifications of the World Christianity turn In twelve chapters scholars from various academic backgrounds anthropology religious studies history missiology intercultural studies theology and patristics as well as of multiple cultural and national belongings investigate methodological issues e.g. methods use of sources choosing a unit of analysis terminology conceptual categories relevant to World Christianity debates In a closing chapter the editors

Frederiks and Nagy converge the findings and sketch the outlines of what they coin as a World Christianity approach a multidisciplinary and multiple perspective approach to study Christianity ies plurality and diversity in past and present

International Handbook of Inter-religious Education Kath Engebretson, Marian de Souza, Gloria Durka, Liam

Gearon, 2010-08-17 This Handbook is based on the conviction of its editors and contributing authors that understanding and acceptance of as well as collaboration between religions has essential educational value The development of this Handbook rests on the f ther assumption that interreligious education has an important role in elucidating the global demand for human rights justice and peace Interreligious education reveals that the creeds and holy books of the world s religions teach about sp itual systems that reject violence and the individualistic pursuit of economic and political gain and call their followers to compassion for every human being It also seeks to lead students to an awareness that the followers of religions across the world need to be and to grow in dialogical relationships of respect and understa ing An essential aim of interreligious education is the promotion of understanding and engagement between people of different religions and therefore it has great potential to contribute to the common good of the global community Interreligious education has grown from the interfaith movement whose beg ning is usually identi ed with the World Parliament of Religions held in Chicago in 1893 This was the rst time in history that leaders of the eastern and we ern religions had come together for dialogue and to consider working together for global unity

Sustaining the Hope for Unity Erin Brigham, 2012 What is unity and how does it serve as a goal for ecumenical dialogue How can churches ecumenical organizations ministers and theologians effectively approach this goal in the twenty first century Sustaining the Hope for Unity offers a methodological reflection on these questions using insights of contemporary critical theory With particular attention to the work of J rgen Habermas the book develops a framework for exchanging religious narratives in a postmodern context marked by pluralism and ambiguity Using this framework to address questions that have emerged out of the life of the World Council of Churches Sustaining the Hope for Unity argues that unity must be imagined eschatologically in order to achieve inclusive and non coercive dialogue between diverse Christian communities Looking ahead to ecumenism in the twenty first century it makes a case for the role of the WCC as a public space for the exchange of religious narratives

Together on the Way World Council of Churches. Assembly, 1999 Meeting every seven years the assembly is the highest governing body of the World Council of Churches to which all member churches are entitled to send delegates The assembly receives reports on the work of the WCC during the preceding period sets broad guidelines for the next seven years and elects from its membership a central committee to govern the Council until its next assembly This volume includes the texts of the major addresses and of documents adopted by the delegates at the Eighth Assembly which was held in Harare in 1998 Also contained are summaries of discussions in plenary sessions and the revised WCC constitution and rules as well as lists of assembly participants the new central committee and WCC member churches and associated councils The report begins with an introduction to and analysis of this significant ecumenical event      Christian Social Teachings George W. Forell, 2012-09-01 Jesus as an instigator of revolutionary change      Religion, Gender and Masculinities in Africa. Essays in Honour of Ezra Chitando Manyonganise, Molly, Gunda, Masiwa R., Naicker, Linda,      The Challenge of Apartheid: UK-South African Relations, 1985-1986 Patrick Salmon, 2016-11-25 This volume examines diplomatic relations between the United Kingdom and South Africa during one of the most turbulent periods of the apartheid era The crisis of apartheid that began in 1984 provoked international outrage on an unprecedented scale This volume documents the attempt by the British Government to formulate a response that would go some way towards meeting demands for action on the part of critics of South Africa in the Commonwealth the United States and the European Community as well as in the United Kingdom itself without at the same time inflicting unacceptable damage on Britain's significant economic interests in South Africa It was a process marked by frequent disagreements between Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher and the Foreign and Commonwealth Office under Sir Geoffrey Howe The volume begins with reports of the deepening crisis at the beginning of 1985 and concludes with the Commonwealth Review Meeting in August 1986 one of the lowest of many low points in relations between the British Government and the critics of apartheid In South Africa meanwhile there seemed little hope of progress following the imposition of a national state of emergency as the confrontation between the Government and its opponents headed for deadlock and the power of the seculocrats surrounding President Botha became steadily more entrenched This volume gives a flavour of what it was like to be a British diplomat working for change at that time This volume will be of great interest to students of International History British Political History African History and International Relations in general

Innovations as Key to the Green Revolution in Africa Andre Bationo, Boaz Waswa, Jeremiah M. Okeyo, Fredah Maina, Job Maguta Kihara, 2011-08-30 Africa can achieve self sufficiency in food production through adoption of innovations in the agriculture sector Numerous soil fertility and crop production technologies have been generated through research however wide adoption has been low African farmers need better technologies more sustainable practices and fertilizers to improve and sustain their crop productivity and to prevent further degradation of agricultural lands The agricultural sector also needs to be supported by functional institutions and policies that will be able to respond to emerging challenges of globalization and climate change      The Primacy of Regime Survival Mark Simpson, Tony Hawkins, 2018-05-02 This book analyses the past and ongoing decline of Zimbabwe under the rule of ZANU PF with a primary focus on the period 1997 to the present In contrast to much existing literature on post independence Zimbabwe which has focused on the political dimensions of Zimbabwe's fragility this research highlights the economic aspects of Zimbabwe's regression flowing from prolonged mismanagement of the economy which has served to consolidate the rule of the country's political and economic elite The Zimbabwean experience offers unique insights into the economic dimensions of regime preservation This book situates the Zimbabwe experience within the context of wider debates within the field of development studies and the international
