From Fief To Indenture The Transition From Feudal To Non Feudal Contract In Western Europe:

From fief to indenture: the transition from feudal to non-feudal contract in western Europe Bryce Dale Lyon, 2012-03-17 From Fief to Indenture Bryce Lyon, 1972 From Fief to Indenture; the Transition From Feudal to Non-Feudal Contract in Western Europe, by Bryce D. Lyon Bryce Lyon, 1972 The New Cambridge Medieval History: Volume 6, C.1300-c.1415 Rosamond McKitterick, 1995 The sixth volume of The New Cambridge Medieval History covers the fourteenth century a period dominated by plague other natural disasters and war which brought to an end three centuries of economic growth and cultural expansion in Christian Europe but one which also saw important developments in government religious and intellectual life and new cultural and artistic patterns Part I sets the scene by discussion of general themes in the theory and practice of government religion social and economic history and culture Part II deals with the individual histories of the states of western Europe Part III with that of the Church at the time of the Avignon papacy and the Great Schism and Part IV with eastern and northern Europe Byzantium and the early Ottomans giving particular attention to the social and economic relations with westerners and those of other civilisations in the Mediterranean The Hundred Years War (Part II) Andrew Villalon, Donald Kagay, 2008-08-31 This book takes a fresh look at the Hundred Years War by gathering the latest scholarship on several aspects of the conflict that have not been amply studied before and several that have become gospel by numerous scholarly treatments The collection focuses on the following subjects 1 the Hundred Years War as a wide ranging struggle that effected many European regions 2 the battle of Agincourt and its political and emotional aftermath 3 the Iberian theater of war that sprang from the main conflict 4 the impact of the crossbow and longbow on the great battles of the conflict 5 great leaders of the war and 6 economic literary and psychological aspects of the conflict Contributors are William P Caferro Megan Cassidy Welch Kelly DeVries Donald J Kagay Ilana Krug Russell Mitchell Steven Muhlberger Clifford J Rogers L B Ross Dana Sample Wendy Turner Richard Vernier L J Andrew Villalon and David Whetham Winner of the 2014 Verbruggen Prize of De Re Militari the Society for the Study of Medieval Military History given annually for the best book on medieval military history Making Agreements in Medieval Catalonia Adam J. Kosto, 2001-05-03 This study examines the role of written agreements in eleventh and twelfth century Catalonia and how they determined the social and political order By tracing the fate of these agreements or convenientiae from their first appearance to the late twelfth century it is possible to demonstrate the remarkable stability of the fluid structures which they engendered in what is generally thought of as feudal society The process of documentary change reveals the true nature and pace of the transformation of the year 1000 Analysis of the convenientia as an instrument of power and its interaction with oral practices contributes to a deeper understanding of the role of the written word in medieval societies Finally a broad historiographical context establishes the significance of this study of Catalonia for a more general appreciation of the medieval Mediterranean world The Medieval Warrior Aristocracy Andrew Cowell, 2007 A major reconsideration of the relationship between warrior aristocrats epics and heroes in medieval culture The process of identity formation during the central Middle Ages 10th 12th centuries among the warrior aristocracy was fundamentally centered on the paired practices of gift giving and violent taking inextricably linked elements of the same basic symbolic economy These performative practices cannot be understood without reference to a concept of the sacred which anchored and governed the performances providing the goal and rationale of social and military action After focussing on anthropological theory social history and chronicles the author turns to the literary persona of the hero as seen in the epic He argues that the hero was specifically a narrative touchstone used for reflection on the nature and limits of aggressive identity formation among the medieval warrior elite the hero can be seen from a theoretical perspective as a supplement to his own society who both perfectly incarnated its values but also in attaining full integrity short circuited the very mechanisms of identity formation and reciprocity which undergirded the society The book shows that the relationship between warriors heroes and their opponents especially Saracens must be understood as a complex tri partite structure not a simple binary opposition in which the identity of each constituent depends on the other two ANDREW COWELL is Associate Professor of the Department of French and Italian and the Department of Linguistics at the University of Colorado The Hundred Years War (part II) L. J. Andrew Villalon, Donald J. Kagay, 2008 In thirteen articles this volume affirms that the Hundred Years War was a struggle that spilled out of its heartlands of England and France into many European regions These a oedifferent vistasa of scholarship greatly amply the study of the conflict

The Aristocracy in the County of Champagne, 1100-1300 Theodore Evergates, 2007-10-31 Theodore Evergates provides the first systematic analysis of the aristocracy in the county of Champagne under the independent counts He argues that three factors the rise of the comital state fiefholding and the conjugal family were critical to shaping a loose assortment of baronial and knightly families into an aristocracy with shared customs institutions and identity Evergates mines the rich varied and in some respects unique collection of source materials from Champagne to provide a dynamic picture of a medieval aristocracy and its evolving symbiotic relationship with the counts Count Henry the Liberal 1152 81 began the process of transforming a quasi independent baronage accustomed to collegial governance into an elite of landholding families subordinate to the count and his officials By the time Countess Jeanne married the future King Philip IV of France in 1284 the fiefholding families of Champagne had become a distinct provincial nobility Throughout it was the conjugal community rather than primogeniture or patrilineage that remained the core familial institution determining the customs regarding community property dowry dower and partible inheritance Those customs guaranteed that every lineage would survive but frequently through a younger son or daughter The life courses of women and men influenced not only by social norms but also by individual choice and circumstance were equally unpredictable Evergates concludes that imposed models of the aristocratic family fail to capture the diversity of individual lives and lineages within one of the more vibrant principalities of medieval France Medieval Warfare Maurice Hugh Keen, 2001 Women in the Lusophone World in the Middle Ages and the Early Modern Period Darlene Abreu-Ferreira, Ivana Elbl, 2007-11-20 The present collection echoes and contributes to a number of the issues defined by both the traditional and revisionist historiography The intent of this special issue of the Portuguese Studies Review was to highlight some of the new research on late medieval and early modern Portuguese women subjects typically situated outside of the academic mainstream and to complement the four major collections on the history of Portuguese women published since 1986 as well as the larger literature dealing with Spain The essays are organized into six general themes Female Characters in Late Medieval Chronicles Women and Power in the Late Middle Ages Habsburg Queens and Portugal Women and the Economy Attitudes Toward Women and Women and Religion The volume presents essays by Amélia P. Hutchinson, José Valente, Jutta Sperling, Ivana Elbl, Susannah C. Humble, Ferreira Félix Labrador Arroyo, Annemarie Jordan Almudena Pérez de Tudela, Amélia Polónia, Amândio Jorge Morais Barros, Darlene Abreu Ferreira, Pedro Miguel Reboredo Marques, Marcia Eliane Alves de Souza e Mello, Jessiva V. Roitman, Inês Amorim, Elisbete de Jesus and Célia Rego and Haruko Nawata Ward with an Introduction by Darlene Abreu Ferreira and Ivana Elbl The volume also contains an Addendum on the Portuguese Estado Novo with studies by Sonny B. Davis and António Muñoz Sánchez

Mercenaries and Their Masters Michael Mallett, 2009-08-19 The eminent Renaissance historian's classic study of warfare between Italian city states between the 13th and 16th centuries Michael Mallett's lucid account of the age of the condottieri or mercenary captains of fortune and of the soldiers who fought under them is set in the wider context of the Italian society of the time and of the warring city states who employed them Mallett presents a colorful portrait of the mercenaries themselves as well as their commanders and their campaigns while also exploring how war was practiced in the Renaissance world Mallett puts special focus on the 15th century a confused period of turbulence and transition when standing armies were formed in Italy and more modern types of military organization took hold across Europe But it also looks back to the middle ages and forward to the Italian wars of the sixteenth century when foreign armies disputed the European balance of power on Italian soil First published in 1974 Mallett's pioneering study remains an essential text on the subject of warfare in the late medieval period and the Renaissance Late-medieval England, 1377-1485 DeLloyd J. Guth, 1976 Progress and Problems in Medieval England Richard Britnell, John Hatcher, 2002-05-16 A series of essays on the society and economy of England between the eleventh and the sixteenth centuries The Making of a Court Society Rita Costa

Gomes, 2003-04-10 This 2003 book is an important full length study of the Portuguese royal court in the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries It describes the fundamental importance of the court in defining the social position of kings and shows how kings and nobles redefined one another despite many celebrated political rivalries within the broader Iberian context The book contains a detailed comparative analysis of the way royal courts were organized and of the status professional and gender groups inside the Portuguese court The characteristics of the court society as a whole however were rooted mostly in the dynamics of hierarchy and interdependence in the specific ways the different parts and the individuals were bonded to each other These bonds are discussed in light of later medieval concepts and theories The book also describes the constant displacement of this complex community within Portugal and how life at court was shaped by ceremonial duties and common activities

The Hundred Years War L. J. Andrew Villalon, Donald J. Kagay, 2005 This work the first of a two volume set brings together essays of European and American scholars on the wider regional and topical aspects of the Hundred Years War as well as articles that revisit questions posed and supposedly solved by traditional Hundred Years War scholarship

Farm Policies and Politics in the Truman Years Allen J. Matusow, 1967 In this thorough and lively study Allen Matusow tracing the history of government policy on food and agriculture during the Truman administration relates the process by which the United States government overcame disharmony among its own politicians and farmers to save Europe from famine in the years immediately following World War II The Department of Agriculture which had asserted that food will win the war and write the peace was often reluctant to believe its own slogan Elucidating the policies involved in postwar planning for both foreign trade and domestic farm production Matusow shows how the memorable fear of huge surpluses created by the Depression in the 1930s had affected the attitudes of government officials toward agricultural planning and production from 1945 to 1952 Interpreting the origins and defeat of the Brannan Plan the author finds remnants of that policy evident in the current adoption of production payments Farm Policies and Politics in the Truman Years offers new insight into the creative agricultural policy which emerged from hesitant beginnings in Truman's second term

The Question of the Gift Mark Osteen, 2013-09-13 The Question of the Gift is the first collection of new interdisciplinary essays on the gift Bringing together scholars from a variety of fields including anthropology literary criticism economics philosophy and classics it provides new paradigms and poses new questions concerning the theory and practice of gift exchange In addressing these questions contributors not only challenge the conventions of their fields but also combine ideas and methods from both the social sciences and humanities to forge innovative ways of confronting this universal phenomenon

The English Aristocracy at War David Simpkin, 2008 In 1277 the recently crowned king of England Edward I invaded Wales his army large for the time was none the less modest by his later standards Most of his countrymen had not been on active service outside the realm for twenty years and more if at all yet over the course of the following four decades up to the battle of Bannockburn in 1314 they would be called upon to fight in four different theatres of war in Wales Gascony Flanders and Scotland Although the identities of many of the men who fought in these wars particularly those of the thousands of peasant foot soldiers will never be known the names of a large proportion of the men at arms can be located in the records of central government This book utilises these sources payrolls horse inventories wardrobe books and others to examine the military careers and activities of these men at arms focussing on five main themes mobilisation military command service patterns among the gentry retinues and their composition and feudal service Book Jacket

Winner and Waster and Its Contexts W. Mark Ormrod, 2021 First recent full length analysis of a major medieval poem
