

What Does the Public Sector Do?

1. Makes economic and social policies

- The public sector makes and enforces policies that cover virtually everything the government does.
- Policies developed by the public sector serve the government of the day, reflecting its social and economic goals.

From Macroeconomic Correction To Public Sector Reform The Critical Role Of Evaluation:

From Macroeconomic Correction to Public Sector Reform Eduardo Wiesner Durán, 1993-01-01 This paper explains why tough public sector reform and a sound macroeconomy are essential to sustained growth It provides a strategy to help countries evaluate how well their governments policies work Decisionmakers will learn ways to build an evaluations program that can make governments more accountable and improve their performance Some options could include making central banks independent eliminating earmarked funds and balancing the national budget The author suggests which government offices should oversee and develop evaluation policies to get the best results and explains why evaluation results must be linked with all budget decisions He describes the political and economic environment that allows the evaluation process to develop freely Also discussed is the role that the World Bank and other institutions should play in supporting evaluation programs The study examines how sound evaluation can lead to more consistent international policies and better international governance

The Design and Administration of Intergovernmental Transfers Donald R. Winkler, 1994-01-01 World Bank Discussion Paper 235 This paper evaluates Latin America's experience in the transfer of certain responsibilities from the national to the subnational levels of government The experience of countries that have already decentralized the Trade Policy Reform in Developing Countries Since 1985 Judith Myrle Dean, Seema Desai, James Riedel, 1994 The recent and apparently broad move towards unilateral trade liberalization in the developing world has not been systematically documented nor has comparative data been compiled This study investigates the extent and character of trade reform in 32 countries in South Asia East Asia Africa and Latin America Changes in tariffs non tariffs barriers foreign exchange controls and export impediments between the mid 1980s and 1992-93 are discussed Data are presented on changes in the level range and dispersion of tariffs and coverage of quantitative restraints Similarities and differences both within and between regions are evaluated Website

Improving the Quality of Primary Education in Latin America and the Caribbean Laurence Wolff, Ernesto Schiefelbein, Jorge Valenzuela, 1994 World Bank Discussion Paper No 257 Countries in the Latin America and the Caribbean region LAC have invested heavily in primary education over the past 10 years International studies of achievement however show that LAC countries still perform services Development of Rural Financial Markets to Sub-Saharan Africa Sabapathy Thillairajah, 1994 World Bank Environment Paper 6 Here is a holistic approach to analyzing the environmental impact of various power systems Unlike standard impact studies that begin at the project level this method calls for environmental assessments that start at the planning stage of a national framework for energy policymaking The framework would take into account the energy needs of Sri Lanka's total economy It also would make it easier to incorporate environmental goals into power sector decisionmaking at the critical investment stage Sri Lanka's development options for the power sector are reviewed in detail Topics include alternative ways to assess the economic value of a power plant's impact on biodiversity human health and air and water pollution The study also assesses which energy planning options work best and recommends ways in which the Ceylon Electricity Board can improve its environmental policies Supply and Demand for Finance of Small Enterprises in Ghana, 1994-01-01 World Bank Discussion Paper No 251 This study investigates the conflicting viewpoints of small and medium size enterprises SMEs and banks the SMEs contend that the supply of bank financing is largely unavailable to them while banks maintain Raising the Productivity of Women Farmers in Sub-Saharan Africa Katrine Anderson Saito, Hailu Mekonnen, Daphne Spurling, 1994 World Bank Discussion Paper 230 Based on four country studies and extensive household surveys this paper documents the breakdown of traditional farming systems in Sub-Saharan Africa and its implications for the role of women in agriculture Evaluation and Development Eduardo Wiesner, 2017-09-08 This study illustrates the social and political principal that institutions matter It explores not only how to get institutions to work efficiently but also how to assess the proper relationship between institutions and development challenges through evaluative techniques Policies Affecting Fertility and Contraceptive Use Susan Scribner, 1995 World Bank Technical Paper No 272 Public examinations in developing countries play a critical role in the selection of students for participation in the educational system The exams dictate what is taught how it is taught and what is and is not learned They are academic have little reference to the everyday lives of the students are limited to pencil and paper tests and are biased toward high achievers Thus students who leave school at an early stage are provided with inadequate opportunities for acquiring relevant knowledge and skills This study identifies practices associated with examinations that may create inequities for some students These include scoring procedures the use of culturally inappropriate questions fee requirements private tutoring exams in a language unfamiliar to the student and a variety of malpractices Quota systems that deal with differences in performance associated with location ethnicity or language group membership also creates inequities for some students The report concludes that the limited available evidence does not indicate that examinations create inequities between genders and that ranking schools on the basis of students examination performance may not provide a fair assessment of the work of schools Leadership in the Public Sector Christine Teelken, Ewan Ferlie, Mike Dent, 2013-05-02 In view of the approaching age of austerity for the public sector leadership is likely to continue to become a key theme This edited volume brings together a host of material from the public sector to analyze the issue internationally Teelken Dent Ferlie lead a team of contributors in examining three key aspects of this increasingly important theme the meaning of public sector leadership and how this changes in different contexts the implications for leadership style given the growing role of the private sector the response to the leadership issue from professionals moving into senior management roles With contributions from respected academics such as Jean Louis Denis Mike Reed and Mirko Nordegraaf this book will be an invaluable supplementary resource for those undertaking studies across public sector management and administration
