Historical Affects and the Early Modern Theater Ronda Arab, Michelle Dowd, Adam Zucker, 2015-05-15 This collection of original essays honors the groundbreaking scholarship of Jean E Howard by exploring cultural and economic constructions of affect in the early modern theater While historicist and materialist inquiry has dominated early modern theater studies in recent years the historically specific dimensions of affect and emotion remain underexplored This volume brings together these lines of inquiry for the first time exploring the critical turn to affect in literary studies from a historicist perspective to demonstrate how the early modern theater showcased the productive interconnections between historical contingencies and affective attachments Considering well known plays such as Shakespeare's Antony and Cleopatra and Thomas Dekker's The Shoemaker's Holiday together with understudied texts such as court entertainments and examining topics ranging from dramatic celebrity to women's political agency to the parental emotion of grief this volume provides a fresh and at times provocative assessment of the historical affects financial emotional and socio political that transformed Renaissance theater Instead of treating history and affect as mutually exclusive theoretical or philosophical contexts the essays in this volume ask readers to consider how drama emplaces the most personal unspeakable passions in matrices defined in part by financial exchange by erotic desire by gender by the material body and by theatricality itself As it encourages this conversation to take place the collection provides scholars and students alike with a series of new perspectives not only on the plays emotions and histories discussed in its pages but also on broader shifts and pressures animating literary studies today Gender Raewyn Connell, Rebecca Pearse, 2014-12-10 How can we understand gender in the contemporary world What psychological differences now exist between women and men How are masculinities and femininities made And what is the relationship between gender issues and globalizing concerns such as environmental change and economic restructuring Raewyn Connell one of the world's leading scholars in the field is here joined by Rebecca Pearse as they answer these questions and more Their book provides a readable introduction to modern gender studies covering empirical research from all parts of the world in addition to theory and politics As well as introducing the field Gender provides a powerful contemporary framework for gender analysis with a strong and distinctive global awareness Highlighting the multi dimensional character of gender relations the authors show how to link personal life with large scale organizational structures and how gender politics changes its form in changing situations The third edition of this influential and accessible book includes a whole new chapter on ecofeminism environmental justice and sustainability It also brings the review of research up to date throughout and explains new debates and emerging gender theories Gender is engaged scholarship that moves from personal experience to global problems and offers a unique perspective on gender issues today Art Therapy , 1998
