Behavioural Science and

Housing Decision Making Helen Bao, 2020-02-25 This book takes a behavioural approach to examine six important housing questions: tenure, decision, gentrification, place, attachment, housing bubbles, housing wealth, and residential satisfaction. Using experimental and field data, the book demonstrates the effects of six behavioural biases and heuristics: i.e. anchoring and reference dependence, loss aversion, mental accounting, endowment effect, herd behaviours, and social comparison on these housing decisions. The first part of the book introduces the questions and provides a behavioural science toolbox; before the second part adopts a real world case study approach. Real data sets and suggested answers are provided, and the cases come from the UK, USA, and China. Background information is given in each case to facilitate the understanding of the case data and question, as well as the discussions on the results. This book is ideal supplementary reading on a variety of courses such as housing studies, economics, real estate research methods, and for students and academics who are interested in the application of behavioural science in housing decisions.

Real Estate Appraisal Sarah Sayce, Judy Smith, Richard Cooper, Piers Venmore-Rowland, 2009-02-11 The education of the real estate professional is changing and aligning itself more closely with the world of business. This book takes a new approach to property appraisal by exploring the pricing mechanism in this changing context. It develops the notion of the pricing mechanism in relation to property, covers practical issues of comparison, and the real problems in applying valuation theory. It explores calculations including social and environmental worth ignored in other texts. As real estate professionals now advise both on strategic and operational aspects of built assets, they must take into account practices of other investment markets and see investors as competitors to owner-occupiers. Both owner-occupiers and investors have to assess accurately how their buildings perform but also be aware of wider sustainability issues and social and environmental responsibilities. Real Estate Appraisal from value to worth meets these new demands by examining the latest techniques of the marketplace, developing an understanding of both market appraisal and worth, and highlighting the emerging role of sustainability as a driver for decision making in real estate. Written by a group of highly experienced lecturers and professionals at the cutting edge of investment practice, the book has an accessible style and authoritative coverage for both students and practitioners facing changes in established ways of working.
