Analyzes what is wrong with the U S health care system assessing and critiquing the ability of consumer driven approaches to fix these problems and comparing the U S experience with that of other nations Privatisation against the European Social Model

Marica Frangakis,Christoph Hermann,Károly Lóránt,2009-11-05 This book addresses the EU as powerful driver of the wave of privatizations in the network industries and public services since the early 1990s Based on theoretical arguments and empirical studies it examines the impact of these policies on what is regarded as the normative pillars of the European Social Model Health Care Financing and Affordability in the Emerging Global Markets Mihajlo

(Michael) Jakovljevic,Kyriakos Souliotis,Wim Groot,2016-04-14 During the recent few decades global economic growth has been driven largely by developing world economies The ones with the most intensive pace of development were marked as emerging markets led by so called BRICS and N 11 countries Such changes inevitably reflected the global health arena A number of issues previously limited to established high income economies became popularly discussed topics on the agendas of public health policy makers across these regions Major challenges remain population aging rising incidence of prosperity diseases lack of universal insurance coverage and particularly provision of just and equitable access to medical care among the poor both in urban and rural communities A significant part of the difficulties faced by these societies are attributed to inefficient resource allocation strategies in health care and unsatisfactory funding strategies This Research Topic was created in order to address the core challenges of medical care financing and its affordability across the emerging global markets Contributions of both undergoing or finished original research as well as review style papers are welcomed All submitted manuscripts should deal with issues relevant to health care economics and policy in recognized global emerging markets Outside the aforementioned key markets BRICS Brazil Russia India China South Africa Next 11 Bangladesh Egypt Indonesia Iran South Korea Mexico Nigeria Pakistan the Philippines Turkey and Vietnam submissions referring to any of the dynamically developing Asian Latin America Eastern Europe or MENA countries are encouraged In addition to a variety of health economic evaluations and health policy analysis methodological and resource use studies are within the Topic scope Health policy considerations should be primarily focused on financing mechanisms and affordability of health care although other surrounding issues such as health insurance reimbursement and cost containment strategies will be considered

Health System Performance Comparison: an Agenda for Policy, Information and Research Irene

Papanicolas,Peter Smith,2013-06-16 International comparison of health system performance has become increasingly popular made possible by the rapidly expanding availability of health data It has become one of the most important levers for prompting health system reform Yet as the demand for transparency and accountability in healthcare increases so too does the need to compare data from different health systems both accurately and meaningfully This timely and authoritative book offers an important summary of the current developments in health system performance comparison It summarises the current state of efforts to compare systems and identifies and explores the practical and conceptual challenges that occur It discusses data and methodological challenges as well as broader issues such as the interface between evidence and practice The book draws out the priorities for future work on performance comparison in the development of data sources and measurement instruments analytic methodology and assessment of evidence on performance It concludes by presenting the key lessons and future priorities and in doing so offers a rich source of material for policy makers their analytic advisors international agencies academics and students of health systems

The European Health Report 2002 World Health Organization. Regional Office for Europe, 2002-07 The European health report responds to the statutory requirements to provide the member states with essential public health information The report analyses a decade of evidence on health in the Region which embraces 51 WHO Member States with some 870 million people While overall levels of health in the Region are among the highest in the world the report describes widening gaps between and within countries It confirms the strong links between socioeconomic development health and equity in the WHO European Region The report builds on the view that health policies cannot be isolated from other policy sectors One central task in improving health is to reduce socioeconomic inequalities thus placing health in the context of human development The link between health and employment income maintenance social welfare housing and education is crucial in all European Member States The report focuses on concrete evidence useful for decision makers in public health Its role is to summarize and feed back to Member States the information created deposited and accredited during the Regional Office's work with Member States on key topics and issues in public health in Europe in the context of the values and principles of WHO as one Organization
