Mapping the Contours of Oppression Owen Evans, 2006 Despite all the assertions towards the end of the twentieth century that the literary subject had expired along with the author the wave of autobiographies published in German after the Wende was a clear indication that on the contrary life stories were very much alive In this study Owen Evans examines the work of eight authors Ludwig Harig Uwe Saeger Ruth Kluger Gnter de Bruyn Gnter Kunert Christoph Hein Grete Weil and Monika Maron who all published personal texts after 1989 dealing either with life in Nazi Germany or the GDR and in some cases both By means of close textual analysis Evans explores the impact these regimes had on the individuals concerned and the contrasting ways in which the authors handle the autobiographical project They adopt varying textual strategies to render the self on the page with some employing overt fiction and yet in each case the project was clearly motivated by the need to treat psychological wounds inflicted on the self by totalitarianism In their mapping of the contours of oppression the texts at the heart of this study combine to offer a powerful defence of literary autobiography in Germany at least as a valuable means of tackling the legacy of totalitarianism

Neither Good Nor Bad Gerhard Besier, Katarzyna Stokłosa, 2014-06-19 When confronted by a range of violent actions perpetrated by lone individuals contemporary society exhibits a constant tendency to react in terms of helpless even perplexed horror Seeking explanations for the apparently inexplicable commentators often hurry to declare the perpetrators as evil This question is not restricted to individuals history has repeatedly demonstrated how groups and even entire nations can embark on a criminal plan united by the conviction that they were fighting for a good and just cause Which circumstances occasioned such actions What was their motivation Applying a number of historical scientific and social scientific approaches to this question this study produces an integrative portrait of the reasons for human behavior and advances a number of different interpretations for their genesis The book makes clear the extent to which we live in socially constructed realities in which we cling for dear life to a range of conceptions and beliefs which can all too easily fall apart in situations of crisis
