The Architecture of Late Assyrian Royal Palaces David Kertai, 2015-03-26

The Late Assyrian Empire c. 900-612 BCE was the first state to rule over the major centres of the Middle East, and the Late Assyrian court inhabited some of the most monumental palaces of its time. The Architecture of Late Assyrian Royal Palaces is the first volume to provide an in-depth analysis of Late Assyrian palatial architecture, offering a general introduction to all key royal palaces in the major centres of the empire: Assur, Kalu, Dur-Sharruken, and Nineveh. Where previous research has often focused on the duality between public and private realms, this volume redefines the cultural principles governing these palaces and proposes a new historical framework analysing the spatial organization of the palace community, which placed the king front and centre. It brings together the architecture of such palaces as currently understood within the broader framework of textual and art historical sources and argues that architectural changes were guided by a need to accommodate ever larger groups as the empire grew in size.

European Furniture in The Metropolitan Museum of Art Daniëlle O. Kisluk-Grosheide, Wolfram Koeppe, William Rieder, 2006-05-30

This beautifully produced volume is the first to survey the Metropolitan Museum's world-renowned collection of European furniture. One hundred and three superb examples from the Museum's vast holdings are featured. They originated in workshops in England, France, Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Austria, Russia, or Spain and date from the Renaissance to the late nineteenth century. A number of them belonged to such important historical figures as Pope Urban VIII, Louis XIV, Madame de Pompadour, and Napoleon. The selection includes chairs, tables, beds, cabinets, commodes, settees, and sofas; bookcases and standing shelves; desks, fire screens, armoires, coffer boxes, chests, mirrors, and frames; showcases and lighting equipment. There is also one purely decorative piece: a superb vase made for a Russian noble family who, according to one awestruck viewer, owned all the malachite mines in the world. The makers of some of the objects are unknown, but most of the pieces can be identified by label, documentation, or style as the work of an outstanding European designer or craftsman, such as André Charles Boulle, Thomas Chippendale, David Roentgen or Karl Friedrich Schinkel Furniture Age ,1929 Good Furniture Magazine ,1927 A Cultural History of Furniture in the Age of Empire and Industry Catherine L. Futter,Christina M. Anderson,2022-02-24 The 19th century in Western culture was a time of both confidence and turbulence Industrial development produced a growing middle class as well as efficiency convenience and innovation across a range of fields from engineering to architecture Alongside these improvements the century began with the extended period of the Napoleonic Wars and was further disrupted by rebellions and revolutions both within Europe and in India South America and other parts of the world Slavery was abolished and urbanization increased dramatically These myriad developments were reflected throughout the period in the proliferation of types of furniture along with their categorization as industrial art at the international exhibitions and world fairs and the increasingly adventurous range of materials that were sometimes used in their construction Nonetheless a strong antiquarian historicist strand also prompted interest in the revival of past styles in areas of art and design including furniture Drawing upon a wealth of visual and textual sources this volume of A Cultural History of Furniture presents essays that examine key characteristics of the furniture of the period on the themes of design and motifs makers making and materials types and uses the domestic setting the public setting exhibition and display furniture and architecture visual representations and verbal representations Concerning the Furniture of the Davanzati Palace and the Villa Pia Horace Townsend,1916 Journal of the Society of Architects ,1925 An Encyclopaedia of English Furniture Oliver Brackets,1927 The Parliamentary Debates, Official Report Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons,1916 Contains the 4th session of the 28th Parliament through the 1st session of the 48th Parliament The Memory Palace Edward Hollis,2014-03-18 A brilliant ambitious follow up to The Secret Lives of Buildings in which Hollis turns his focus from the great architectural constructions of the past to the now vanished chambers they once contained The rooms we live in are always more than just four walls As we decorate these spaces and fill them with objects and friends they shape our lives and become the backdrop to our sense of self one day the structures will be gone but even then traces of the stories and the memories they contained will persist In this dazzling work of imaginative reconstruction edward Hollis takes us to the sites of great abodes now lost to history and piecing together the fragments that remain re creates their vanished chambers From Rome s palatine to the old palace of Westminster and the petit Trianon at Versailles from the sets of MGM studios in Hollywood to the pavilions of the Crystal palace and the author s own grandmother s sitting room The Memory Palace is a glittering treasure trove of luminous forgotten places and the alluring people who lived in them Italian Renaissance Furniture Wilhelm von Bode,1921 Furniture Esther Singleton,1911 Furniture in England Francis Lenygon,1920 Chinese Furniture Xiaoming Zhang,2011-03-03 This book provides an accessible illustrated introduction to the long history production techniques and cultural significance of Chinese furniture The Politics of Furniture Freddie Floré,Cammie McAtee,2017-02-10 In many different parts of the world modern furniture elements have served as material expressions of power in the post war era They were often meant to express an international and in some respects apolitical modern language but when placed in a sensitive setting or a meaningful architectural context they were highly capable of negotiating or manipulating ideological messages. The agency of modern furniture was often less overt than that of political slogans or statements but as the chapters in this book reveal it had the potential of becoming a persuasive and malleable ally in very diverse politically charged arenas including embassies governmental ministries showrooms exhibitions design schools libraries museums and even prisons. This collection of chapters examines the consolidating as well as the disrupting force of modern furniture in the global context between 1945 and the mid 1970s. The volume shows that key to understanding this phenomenon is the study of the national as well as transnational systems through which it was launched promoted and received. While some chapters squarely focus on individual furniture elements as vehicles communicating political and social meaning others consider the role of furniture within potent sites that demand careful negotiation whether between governments cultures or buyer and seller. In doing so the book explicitly engages different scholarly fields design history history of interior architecture architectural history cultural history diplomatic and political history postcolonial studies tourism studies material culture studies furniture history and heritage and preservation studies. Taken together the narratives and case studies compiled in this volume offer a better understanding of the political agency of post war modern furniture in its original historical context. At the same time they will enrich current debates on reuse relocation or reproduction of some of these elements.
