Design as Future-Making Susan Yelavich, Barbara Adams, 2014-09-25 Design as Future Making brings together leading international designers scholars and critics to address ways in which design is shaping the future The contributors share an understanding of design as a practice that with its focus on innovation and newness is a natural ally of futurity Ultimately the choices made by designers are understood here as choices about the kind of world we want to live in Design as Future Making locates design in a space of creative and critical reflection examining the expanding nature of practice in fields such as biomedicine sustainability digital crafting fashion architecture urbanism and design activism The authors contextualize design and its affects within issues of social justice environmental health political agency education and the right to pleasure and play Collectively they make the case that as an integrated mode of thought and action design is intrinsically social and deeply political Emerging Solutions for Future Manufacturing Systems Luis M. Camarinha-Matos, 2006-01-04 Industries and particularly the manufacturing sector have been facing difficult challenges in a context of socio economic turbulence characterized by complexity as well as the speed of change in causal interconnections in the socio economic environment In order to respond to these challenges companies are forced to seek new technological and organizational solutions In this context two main characteristics emerge as key properties of a modern automation system agility and distribution Agility because systems need not only to be flexible in order to adjust to a number of a priori defined scenarios but rather must cope with unpredictability Distribution in the sense that automation and business processes are becoming distributed and supported by collaborative networks Emerging Solutions for Future Manufacturing Systems includes the papers selected for the BASYS 04 conference which was held in Vienna Austria in September 2004 and sponsored by the International Federation for Information Processing IFIP

The Cunning of Uncertainty Helga Nowotny, 2015-11-19 Uncertainty is interwoven into human existence It is a powerful incentive in the search for knowledge and an inherent component of scientific research We have developed many ways of coping with uncertainty We make promises manage risks and make predictions to try to clear the mists and predict ahead But the future is inherently uncertain and the mist that shrouds our path an inherent part of our journey The burning question is whether our societies can face up to uncertainty learn to embrace it and whether we can open up to a constantly evolving future In this new book Helga Nowotny shows how research can thrive at the cusp of uncertainty Science she argues can eventually transform uncertainty into certainty but into certainty which remains always provisional Uncertainty is never completely static It is constantly evolving It encompasses geological time scales and at the level of human experience split second changes as cells divide Life and death decisions are taken in the blink of the eye while human interactions with the natural environment may reveal their impact over millennia Uncertainty is cunning It appears at unexpected moments it shuns the straight line takes the oblique route and sometimes the unexpected short cut As we acknowledge the cunning of uncertainty its threats retreat We accept that any scientific inquiry must produce results that are provisional and uncertain This message is vital for politicians and policy makers do not be tempted by small short term controllable gains to the exclusion of uncertain high gain opportunities Wide ranging in its use of examples and enriched by the author s experience as President of the European Research Council one of the world s leading funding organisations for fundamental research The Cunning of Uncertainty is a must read for students and scholars of all disciplines politicians policy makers and anyone concerned with the fundamental role of knowledge and science in our societies today
