Future Of Knowledge Production In The Academy:

The Future of Knowledge Production in the Academy Merle Jacob, Tomas Hellström, 2000 The new knowledge society is characterized by a growing partnership between the university and industry What are the implications for academics of such partnerships What happens when the production of academic research is reorganized to reflect corporate structures and ambitions What will future academic institutions be like Does the nation state still have a role in determining how national science systems should be organized This volume explores knowledge management in the university and beyond from the perspective of researchers working in academic industry partnerships Its re examination of the role of the academy in knowledge production and in society is important reading for all academic researchers for academic managers and for students and scholars in science studies and sociology knowledge

Knowledge Production in European Universities Kwiek Marek, 2012-11-23 The book studies transformations of European universities in the context of globalization and Europeanization the questioning of the foundations of the Golden Age of the Keynesian welfare state public sector reforms demographic changes the massification and diversification of higher education and the emergence of knowledge economies Such phenomena as academic entrepreneurialism and diversified channels of knowledge exchange in European universities are linked to transformations of the state and changes in public sector services The first contextual part of the book studies the changing state university relationships and the second empirically informed part draws from several recent large scale comparative European research projects Knowledge Economy, Development and the Future of Higher Education Michael A. Peters, 2007-01-01 Prophetically almost thirty years ago Jean Fran ois Lyotard forecast the end of the modern research university based on Enlightenment principles He envisaged the emergence of technical institutes in the service of the information rich global multinationals This book reflects on the post war Western university and its discourses charting the crisis of the concept of the modern university First it examines the university within a global networked economy second it adopts poststructuralist perspectives in epistemology politics and ethics to appraise the role of the contemporary university third it introduces the notion of development in a critical fashion as a way of explaining its potentially new regional and international learning roles fourth it analyzes the rise of global science and the disciplines in the context of the global economy and finally it raises Lyotard s logic of performativity and the assessment of research quality within a neoliberal economy linking it firmly to the question of freedom and the republic of science

EBOOK: Reshaping the University: New Relationships between Research, Scholarship and Teaching Ronald Barnett, 2005-09-16 What is the emerging shape of the University Are there spaces for present activities to be practised anew or even for new activities If these questions have force they show that the metaphors of shapes and spaces can be helpful in understanding the contemporary university Research teaching and scholarship remain the dominant activities in universities and so it is their relationships that form the main concerns of this volume Are these activities pulling apart from each other Or might these activities be brought more together in illuminating ways Is there space to redesign these activities so that they shed light on each other Is there room for yet other purposes In this volume a distinguished set of scholars engage with these pertinent but challenging issues Ideas are offered and evidence is marshalled of practices that suggest a re shaping of the University may be possible Reshaping the University appeals to those who are interested in the future of universities including students researchers managers and policy makers It also addresses global issues and it will therefore interest the higher education community worldwide Contributors Ronald Barnett David Dill Carol Bond Lewis Elton Mick Healey Mark Hughes Rajani Naidoo Mark Olssen Bruce Macfarlane Kathleen Nolan Jan Parker Michael Peters Alison Phipps Jane Robertson Peter Scott Stephen Rowland

Higher Education Management and Policy, Volume 17 Issue 3 Special Issue on Entrepreneurship OECD,2005-12-16 This special issue of Higher Education Management and Policy features seven articles on entrepreneurship in universities

The Knowledge Business Rob Imrie,2016-03-03 This book provides a critique of the knowledge business and describes and evaluates its different manifestations in and impacts on the university sector Its focus is the social sciences and in particular housing and urban studies Drawing on a wide range of experiences both in the UK and elsewhere it illustrates the changing management of the academy and the development by university managers of instruments or techniques of control to ensure that academics are disciplined in ways that are commensurate with achieving commercial goals The individual chapters highlight the different ways in which the academy is being put to work for commercial gain and they evaluate how far the public service ethos of the universities is coming apart in a context in which what is to be serviced is increasingly a private clientele defined by their ability to pay The Knowledge Business examines the contradictions and tensions associated with these processes highlighting the implications for the academic labour process and the future of the academy

The Impact and Future of Arts and Humanities Research Paul Benneworth,Magnus Gulbrandsen,Ellen Hazelkorn,2016-11-17 Drawing on original international research by a cross European social science team this book makes an important contribution to the discussion about the future of arts and humanities research It explores the responses of these fields to the growing range of questions being asked about the value impact and benefit of publicly funded research The objective is to better understand what really matters rather than what is easily measured The book increases our understanding of the contribution which university based arts and humanities research makes to society and the economy by exploring how it is defined appreciated and accounted for by researchers policymakers and civil society It identifies appropriate practices and methodologies to assess and demonstrate quality and value beyond the academy The book will be essential reading for researchers and policymakers as well as research organisations and anyone interested in the arts and humanities

How Industry Analysts Shape the Digital Future Neil Pollock,Robin Williams,2016 Industry analysts are in the business of shaping the technological and economic future They attempt to predict what will become the next big thing to spot new emerging trends and paradigms to decide which hi tech products will win out over others and to figure out which technology vendors can deliver on their promises In just a few short years they have developed a surprising degree of authority over technological innovation Yet we know very little if anything about them This book seeks to explain how this was achieved and on what this authority rests Who are the experts who increasingly command the attention of vendor and user communities What is the nature of this new form of technical and business knowledge How Industry Analysts Shape the Digital Future offers the first book length study into this rarely scrutinized form of business expertise Contributions to this volume show how from a small group of mainly North American players which arose in the 1970s Gartner Inc has emerged as clear leader of a 6 billion industry that involves several hundred firms worldwide Through interviews and observation of Gartner Inc and other industry analyst firms the book explores how these firms create their predictions market classifications and rankings as well as with how these outputs are assessed and consumed The book asks why many social scientists have ignored the proliferation of these new forms of management and technical expertise In some cases scholars have deflated this kind of business acumen portraying it as arbitrary knowledge whose methods and content do not deserve enquiry The valuable exception here has been the path breaking work on the performativity of economic financial or accounting knowledge Drawing upon recent performativity arguments the book argues the case for a Sociology of Business Knowledge Creative Knowledge Environments Sven Hemlin, Carl Martin Allwood, Ben R. Martin, 2004-01-01 Although there is an ever increasing demand for new technology and innovations in the economy and society in general we currently know little about the conditions for stimulating creativity in relation to research and innovative activity This book fills a significant gap in the literature by examining the environmental factors that encourage creative working processes for research and innovation Decolonising the Future Academy in Africa and Beyond Michaela Pelican, Karim Zafer, Michael Bolig, 2025-02-27 What does it mean to decolonise academia in Africa Is this important project limited to the humanities Is it a project for the future Are there forerunners at African universities today The contributors to this volume show different trajectories for anthropology as a discipline and for decolonising academia across the continent and beyond They offer a variety of perspectives especially regarding collaboration between African and German scholars in the areas of research teaching and institutional development While some are hopeful and take inspiration from earlier experiences of disciplinary and methodological developments in academic decolonisation and international collaborations others remain critical and call for more radical attempts at decolonisation The Future University Ronald Barnett, 2012 Winner of the Comparative and International Education Society Higher Education Special Interest Group Best Book Award for 2014 As universities increasingly engage with the world beyond the classroom and the campus those who work within higher education are left to examine how the university s mission has changed Official reviews and debates often forget to inquire into the purposes and responsibilities of universities and how they are changing Where these matters are addressed they are rarely pursued in depth and rarely go beyond current circumstances Those who care about the university s role in society are left looking for a renewed sense of purpose regarding its goals and aspirations The Future University explores new avenues opening up to universities and tackles fundamental issues facing their development Contributors with interdisciplinary and international perspectives imagine ways to frame the university's future They consider the history of the university its current status as an active player in local governments cultures and markets and where these trajectories may lead What does it mean to be a university in the twenty first century What could the university become What limitations do they face and what opportunities might lie ahead This volume in the International Studies in Higher Education series offers bold and imaginative possibilities

Cultural Studies in the Future Tense Lawrence Grossberg, 2010-11-25 Lawrence Grossberg one of the most influential figures in cultural studies assesses the mission of cultural studies as a discipline in the past present and future

Women's Studies for the Future Elizabeth Lapovsky Kennedy, Agatha Beins, 2005 Established as an academic field in the 1970s women's studies is a relatively young but rapidly growing area of study Not only has the number of scholars working in this subject expanded exponentially but women's studies has become institutionalized offering graduate degrees and taking on departmental status in many colleges and universities At the same time this field formed in the wake of the feminist movement is finding itself in a precarious position in what is now often called a post feminist society This raises challenging issues for faculty students and administrators How must the field adjust its goals and methods to continue to affect change in the future Bringing together essays by newcomers as well as veterans to the field this essential volume addresses timely questions including Without a unitary understanding of the subject woman what is the focus of women's studies How can women's studies fulfill the promise of interdisciplinarity What is the continuing place of activism in women's studies What are the best ways to think about teach and act upon the intersections of race class gender disability nation and sexuality Offering innovative models for research and teaching and compelling new directions for action Women's Studies for the Future ensures the continued relevance and influence of this developing field Our Shared Future Robert Christmas, Laura E. Reimer, 2020-06-23 This edited collection provides deep insights and varied perspectives of innovative and courageous efforts to reconcile the conflicts that have characterized the history of Indigenous people settlers and their descendants in Canada From the opening chapter the volume contextualizes why Canada is on a reconciliation journey and how that journey is far from over It is a multi disciplinary treatise on decolonization peacebuilding and conflict transformation that is a must read for those scholars students and practitioners of peacebuilding seeking a deeper understanding of reconciliation decolonization and community building Indigenous and non Indigenous scholars and influencers from across Canada describe positive conflict transformation through various lenses including education economics business land sharing and justice reform The authors describe their personal and professional journeys offering insights and research into how individuals and institutions are responding to reconciliation Each chapter provides readers with windows into the tangible ways that Canadians are building a peaceful shared future together

Entrepreneurialism In Universities And The Knowledge Economy: Diversification And Organizational Change In European Higher Education Shattock, Michael, 2008-12-01 This book which is the product of a major EU funded research programme and is based on twenty seven institutional case studies attempts to offer answers to these questions through a series of cross national thematic studies

The Emergent Knowledge Society and the Future of Higher Education Deane E. Neubauer, 2011-12-13 The nature of higher education is by no means fixed it has evolved over time different models of higher education co exist alongside each other at present and worldwide there are demands for higher education to change to better help support economic growth and to better fit changing social and economic circumstances This book examines from an Asian perspective the debates about how higher education should change It considers questions of funding and of who will attend universities and the fundamental question of what universities are for especially as the three key functions of universities knowledge creation through research knowledge dissemination through teaching and service and knowledge conservation through libraries the disciplinary structuring of knowledge and in other ways are increasingly being carried out much more widely outside universities in the new knowledge society Throughout the book discusses the extent to which the countries of East Asia are developing new models of higher education thereby better preparing themselves for the new knowledge society rather than simply following old Western models

Bourdieuian Prospects Lisa Adkins, Caragh Brosnan, Steven Threadgold, 2016-11-10 Bourdieusian Prospects considers the ongoing relevance of Bourdieu's social theory for contemporary social science Breaking with the tendency to reflect on Bourdieu's legacies it brings established and emergent scholars together to debate the futures of a specifically Bourdieusian sociology Driven by a central leitmotif in Bourdieu s oeuvre namely that his work not be blindly appropriated but actively interpreted contributors to this volume set out to map the potentials of Bourdieusian inflected social science While for many social scientists the empirical and theoretical developments of the twenty first century mark a limit point of Bourdieusian social theory this collection charts both how and why a Bourdieusian sociology has a future which is crucial for the ongoing development and roll out of an engaged relevant and critical social science Traditional

Wisdom and Modern Knowledge for the Earth's Future Kohei Okamoto, Yoshitaka Ishikawa, 2014-07-08 The title of this book Traditional Wisdom and Modern Knowledge for the Earth s Future is from the theme of the 2013 Kyoto Regional Conference of the International Geographical Union Over the past few decades globalization has strengthened connections among countries and regions of the world and has greatly changed existing geographies However this trend has also fostered various problems on a regional or global scale such as economic imbalance social fragmentation political conflicts and environmental crises While acknowledging the world s diversity geography as a discipline must endeavor to resolve these problems by devising plans for cooperation and symbiotic existence of the different peoples of the world An old Japanese proverb On ko chi shin taken from a Chinese one Wengu Zhixin says that only by exploring the old can one understand the new People should first understand how traditional ideas linked to interaction between society culture and the environment were formed in different countries and regions Traditional wisdom in harmony with the environment remains prevalent This book examines how we can mold the earth s future through such traditional wisdom and modern knowledge from the nine keynote speeches of the Kyoto Regional Conference focusing on three topics traditional wisdom the environment and the Great East Japan Earthquake EBOOK: Entrepreneurialism in Universities and the Knowledge Economy:

Diversification and Organizational Change in European Higher Education Michael Shattock, 2008-12-16 How entrepreneurial are European universities Perhaps more than is generally realised What are the factors that encourage entrepreneurialism to flourish in research technology transfer teaching regional engagement and internationalization How do different kinds of HEIs comprehensive specialist regional or private address these issues What are the conditions which stimulate or inhibit the academic intrapreneur And in what forms does entrepreneurialism contribute to the knowledge economy This book which is the product of a major EU funded research programme and is based on twenty seven institutional case studies attempts to offer answers to these questions through a series of cross national thematic studies It considers how national systemic characteristics in financial arrangements human resource management and institutional governance impact on entrepreneurialism and suggests ways in which individual initiative can be released and universities freed up to make their contribution to the EU Lisbon Strategy
