From Here To Free Trade In Manufactures Why And How:

From Here to Free Trade in Manufactures Ernest H. Preeg, 2003 This book provides a detailed analysis and strong endorsement of a multilateral free trade agreement for the manufacturing sector as a centerpiece of the WTO Doha negotiations along the lines proposed by the United States The author's conclusion is that such an agreement is economically sound but will require greater political will than is currently evident to succeed Such an agreement would consolidate the proliferating network of bilateral and regional free trade agreements within a multilateral framework and reap an estimated 2 trillion per year increase in global GDP About half of these economic gains will accrue to industrialized countries and the other half mostly to the newly industrialized countries The large gains result from the new order of trade relations which has developed in the last two decades and which is centered on the manufacturing sector as the engine for growth for the U S and global economies This engine has been driven by a broadly based surge in applied new technologies and the rapid growth in manufactures trade and related foreign direct investment with embedded new technologies The dynamic gains resulting from free trade in manufactures would increase economic growth significantly for all participants

The Oxford Handbook on The World Trade Organization Amrita Narlikar, Martin Daunton, Robert M. Stern, 2012-05-31 The Oxford Handbook on the World Trade Organization provides an authoritative and cutting edge account of the World Trade Organization Its purpose is to provide a holistic understanding of what the WTO does how it goes about fulfilling its tasks its achievements and problems and how it might contend with some critical challenges The Handbook benefits from an interdisciplinary approach The editorial team comprises a transatlantic partnership between a political scientist a historian and an economist The distinguished and international team of contributors to the volume includes leading political scientists historians economists lawyers and practitioners working in the area of multilateral trade All the chapters present original and state of the art research material They critically engage with existing academic and policy debates and also contribute to the evolution of the field by setting the agenda for current and future WTO studies The Handbook is aimed at research institutions university academics post graduate students and final year undergraduates working in the areas of international organization trade policy and negotiations global economic governance and economic diplomacy As such it should find an enthusiastic readership amongst students and scholars in History Economics Political Science International Relations Public Policy and Law Equally important the book should have direct relevance for diplomats international bureaucrats government officials and other policy makers and practitioners in the area of trade and economic governance

The Journal of the Board of Arts and Manufactures for Upper Canada, 1863 India and China Ernest H. Preeg, 2008-03-17 In recent years has become increasingly clear that both China and India are competing with the US for technological supremacy as well as market share Preeg whose credits include senior positions in finance and development in the US government as well as academic posts gives policy makers in the private and public sectors fair warning as he analyzes the rise of science and technology in China and India their development in trade and export competitiveness the rise of Indian and Chinese multinational companies and their technological innovations and the geopolitical and geostrategic dimensions of their move into technology He also describes the response of the US including recent international financial trade and investment policy domestic economic policy responses to international competition and the future of the role of America as leader in what has become a triangular form of leadership
