Sports Didactics in Europe Brigitta Höger, Konrad Kleiner, 2022

During the past decades the scientific discipline of Sports Didactics has developed in a heterogeneous manner across national borders and individual university locations in Europe. Its position and situatedness has been characterised by its relation to and differentiation from Sports Pedagogy and other sub-disciplines within sports and educational sciences. The significance of Sports Didactics remains closely connected to the role of the school subject Physical Education as well as Physical Education Teacher Education at universities and colleges. This collected volume provides an overview of the subject understandings, theory landscapes, research contexts and practice models across 24 European countries along five lines of investigation: national historical developments of Sports Didactics, main trends and tendencies of theoretical differentiation, application fields of research and theory formation, recent research perspectives and possible future developments. Jörg Breu the Elder

Andrew Morrall, 2017-09-29. This title was first published in 2002. Jörg Breu belonged to the generation of German Renaissance artists that included Dürer, Cranach, Grünewald, Altdorfer and in his own city of Augsburg Hans Burgkmair the Elder. His art registered the early reception of Italian art in Germany and spanned the dramatic years of the Reformation in Augsburg when the city was riven with social and religious tensions. Uniquely for a German artist Breu left a diary chronicling his reaction to the massive social and cultural forces that engulfed him, including his own conversion to the Protestant cause. His story is representative of the condition of many artists during the Reformation years, living through this watershed between two cultural eras which witnessed the transfer of creative energies from religious painting to secular and applied forms of art. In this wide-ranging and original study, Andrew Morrall examines the effect of these events on the nature and practice of Jörg Breu's art and its reception not just in his own period but right up to the present day.
