Fuseli Studies:

Fuseli Studies Frederick Antal, 2022-11-30 First published in 1956 Fuseli Studies deals with the many sided artistic achievements of Zurich born Fuseli s baffling personality who was one of the most erudite and renowned intellectuals of his day in Europe The author s intention has been to place his subject in clear historical perspective within his own epoch and thus traces Fuseli s contacts back to sixteenth century mannerism and forward to twentieth century expressionism In this book the social background of that absorbing period covering the artist s working years at the turn of the nineteenth century is evoked not only in analysing his style poised between classicism and romanticism of the age but also accounting for its appeal and relevance to the present day This book will be of interest to students of art art history European history and literature

Fregean Realism Andrei Pop, 2024-12-15 Fregean Realism Frodo Lives and Other Fictions argues that literary fictions pictures and other artworks are modes of access to Gottlob Frege s third realm of objective thoughts about both what is in the real world and what is not but might or might not be Starting with a critique of fictionalism the doctrine that art makes no ontological commitments because it depends on acts of pretending Andrei Pop shifts focus to the shared meaning addressed by acts of pretending and other audience reactions to works of art This book shows that a Fregean theory of sense assertion and concepts does justice to the context specificity of artistic meaning while allowing for durable indeed eternal conceptual content It explores implications for venerable problems such as the truth of art the reality of aesthetic properties beauty and ugliness but also for specific genres or modes like sculpture allegory the relation between image and caption and the first person picture

Fuseli's Milton Gallery Luisa Cale, 2006-12-21 Fuseli's Milton Gallery challenges the antipictorial theories and canons of Romantic period culture Between 1791 and 1799 Swiss painter Henry Fuseli turned Milton s Paradise Lost into a series of 40 pictures Fuseli s project and other literary galleries developed within an expanding market for illustrated books and a culture of anthologization used to reading British and other classics in terms of the visualization of key moments in the text Thus transformed into repositories of virtual pictures literary texts became ideal sources of subjects for painters Illustrating British literature was a way of inventing a national grand style to fit the needs of a consumer society Cale calls into question the separation of reading and viewing as autonomous aesthetic practices To turn readers into spectators meant to place readers and reading within the dizzying world of associations offered by an emerging culture of exhibitions Attending to the energized reading effects developed by Fuseli s Gallery we rediscover a new side of the Romantic imagination which is not the solitary mentalist experience preferred by Wordsworth and Coleridge nor divorced from the senses let alone a refuge from the crowded public spaces of the Revolutionary period Rather Fuseli s embodied aesthetic exemplifies the associationist psychology espoused by the radical circle convening around the publisher Joseph Johnson including Joseph Priestley and Mary Wollstonecraft This book analyses exhibitions as important sites of Romantic sociability and one of many interrelated mediums for the literature debates and controversies of the Revolutionary period
