Parenting by Men Who Batter Jeffrey L. Edleson, Oliver J. Williams, 2007 What is the best way to work with fathers who have a history of abusive behavior This question is among the thorniest that social service and criminal justice professionals must deal with in their careers and in this essential new work Jeffrey L Edleson Oliver J Williams and a group of international colleagues examine the host of equally difficult issues that surround it Beginning with the voices of mothers and fathers who speak about men's contact with and parenting of their children the authors then examine court and mental health services perspectives on how much involvement violent men should have in their children's lives The second half of the book showcases programs such as the Boston based Fathering After Violence initiative and the Caring Dads program in Canada which introduce non abusive parenting concepts and skills to batterers and have developed useful guidelines for intervention with these fathers Visionary but also practical Parenting by Men Who Batter distills the most relevant policy issues research
