Paper to Digital Ziming Liu Ph.D., 2008-10-30 Is the paperless society really possible What is the future of paper in the Digital Age Based on extensive statistics and six separate surveys Paper to Digital explores the evolution and changing characteristics of documents in the Information Age Resultant implications are studied through the examination of emerging issues in the digital environment This timely book represents a useful and scholarly exploration of a major concern in our society History of Humanity UNESCO, 2008-12-31 This is the seventh and final volume in this comprehensive guide to the history of world cultures throughout historical times Wood Variation Bruce J. Zobel, Johannes P. van Buijtenen, 2012-12-06 Wood is the usual end product of a forestry operation Because of its importance numerous studies have been made relative to wood prop erties the causes of wood variation and how best to develop wood for desired products There is voluminous literature related to these subjects but it is neither well known nor appreciated by foresters because the publications are often not available or are not well understood by the forester or by those who use the wood Frequently the literature is confusing and contradictory making it difficult for the nonspecialist to use what information is available In order to produce and use wood efficiently the variation pat terns within trees among trees within species and among species must be understood This also requires some knowledge of the causes of variation and the effects of different wood properties upon utiliza tion The information about variation patterns their causes and con trol and effect upon the product must be known by the tree grower the tree breeder and the tree harvester as well as by those who ultimately convert wood into a final salable product European Forest Sector Outlook Study 1960-2000-2020 United Nations. FAO/ECE Trade Development and

Timber Division. Timber Branch, 2005 This study prepared jointly by FAO and UNECE sets out data on long term trends and projections for future developments in the forestry sector for 38 countries in western and eastern Europe including the three Baltic states and four major CIS countries including Russia covering the years 1960 to 2020 It is based on scientific analysis and covers forest resources and the production trade and consumption of roundwood sawnwood panels pulp and paper as well as the outlook for non wood products and forest services It also examines the links with other sectoral policies such as energy environmental trade and rural development policies and sets out a number of policy conclusions and recommendations

Challenges and Issues in Knowledge Management Anthony F. Buono, Flemming Poulfelt, 2005-09-01 Challenges and Issues in Knowledge Management the fifth volume in the Research on Management Consulting series presents sixteen chapters that explore these various perspectives focusing on knowledge management within the context of the management consulting industry the dynamics associated with knowledge sharing and dissemination methodological approaches to studying knowledge in organizations and reflections on knowledge management and management consulting As the chapters underscore it is important to ensure that KM initiatives are aligned with the needs of the organization and its members that the KM system is owned by organizational members with particular emphasis on executive sponsorship and team member acceptance and that it be understood as an ongoing process rather than simply another management objective or faddish consulting tool The focus therefore should be on how knowledge processes can be facilitated leveraged and utilized in organizational value creation

Smart Homes and Health Telematics Abdelsalam (Sumi) Helal, Simanta Mitra, Johnny Wong, Carl K. Chang, Mokhtari Mounir, 2008-06-21 We often conceptualize that older adults retire into a life of carefree luxury among palm trees golf courses and pristine beaches Unfortunately reality differs today many retire in place and often it is the case they retire in rural areas far from hospitals and care giving centers For instance over half of the older population in the state of Minnesota lives in small towns away from the center of care which is Minneapolis St Paul This year ICOST 2008 aimed at focusing on this important reality and on gerontechnology the use of technology to enhance the quality of life of older adults in rural lands We had a strong technical program this year spanning many critical topics including remote monitoring and tele care access control and privacy preservation and standing user requirements and needs autonomous learning and reasoning about user behavior activities and contexts user interface design middleware for sensing and actuation in smart homes cognitive assistants context aware service provisioning among other topics We received a total of 54 submissions of papers abstracts and posters from 14 different countries Through a blind review process we accepted 24 full papers 9 abstracts and 7 posters Each submission received two or three reviews with the exception of a few that received four reviews We are thankful to all the reviewers who helped in the review process including members of the Technical Committee and the additional reviewers that we needed to compensate for unreturned reviews

Politics of Forests Jakob Donner-Amnell, 2017-03-02 Bringing together case studies from Canada the Nordic countries and Russia this book is the first to provide a comparative examination of the current transformations in the forest industry regimes and the challenges they make for the communities dependent on this industry Questioning how globalization has influenced forest regimes the book focuses on individual forest companies and argues that they are the main motors of the industry's internationalization often without taking due consideration of the complex interrelations between society the environment and forest trade During the current phase of globalization the sphere of material production within the forest industry has increasingly been modified by more speculative signals from the market Both the growing role of investor interests as well as the broader societal demands for greening the production chain have forced managers to be more sensitive to the performance profile and image of their companies In conclusion the book highlights instances of processes working towards homogenization and diversity and suggests that while Anglo American management practice is increasingly important across the northern forest regions it is also meeting with resistance due to historical and political conditions
