The Anthropology of Complex Economic Systems Niccolo Leo Caldararo, 2013-11-14 Today we live in what Ulrich Beck has aptly characterized as a risk society shaped by intensifying crises outside of our control and seemingly outside of our comprehension The master narrative that was supposed to lead us to secular salvation economics has proved to be a large part of the problem rather than the much anticipated solution In The Anthropology of Complex Economic Systems Niccolo Caldararo offers a much more radical and challenging answer that the fundamental assumptions on which the modern science of economics has been erected are false and that it is through the medium of anthropology particularly the relatively neglected field of economic anthropology that an alternative and sound basis for both the understanding of economic behavior and for the shaping of economic futures can be constructed Caldararo not only challenges the foundational assumptions of conventional economic theory but situates economic behavior something quite different and universal amongst human beings in both a historical and an ecological context Contemporary discussions of sustainability especially in the field of development studies have oddly neglected to look to anthropology Economic anthropology is the repository of a vast store of wisdom both about actual alternative and workable economic systems and about their evolution By drawing on this source Caldararo builds a model of the evolution of human economies which stir up substantial debate shows how economic anthropology provides a tool for the interrogation of economic theory and ties economics to ecology It has been the rupture of this fundamental relationship that lies at the basis of much of our present crisis and the unsustainable economic patterns that humans have created By bringing together in a new configuration economic anthropology ecology and culture history Caldararo not only proposes a new model of human social evolution but equally importantly creates a methodology for speaking to and against our present economic and environmental situation

The Environment in Anthropology Nora Haenn, Richard Wilk, 2006 Presenting ecology and current environmental studies from an anthropological point of view this book gives readers a strong intellectual foundation as well as offering practical tools for solving environmental problems

Migration and Economy Lillian Trager, 2005 Focuses on migration not as a single event but as a dynamic process that responds to and is shaped by broader economic cultural and social forces This title features individual essays that offer studies on Mexico Puerto Rico West Africa Kazakstan and Mozambique It is useful for development anthropology migration studies and more This book focuses on the historical sociology of the Turkish state It seeks to compare the development of the Ottoman Turkish state with similar processes of large scale historical change in Europe identified by Michael Mann in The Sources of Social Power It traces the contours of Turkey s modernisation with the intention of formulating a fresh way to approach state development in countries on the global economic periphery particularly those attempting to effect closer ties with Northern markets It also highlights matters of social change pertinent to states grappling with issues relating to political Islam minority identity and irredentist dissent

Ancient Oaxaca Richard E. Blanton, Gary M. Feinman, Stephen A. Kowalewski, Linda M. Nicholas, 2022-07-28 Around 500 B C people decided to constitute a government with a new capital The consequence was a total social transformation

Transforming the Indonesian Uplands Tania Li, 2005-06-27 Drawing upon current theoretical debates in social anthropology development studies and political ecology and presenting original research from across the Archipelago this book addresses the changing histories and identities of upland people as they relate in new ways to the natural resource base to markets and to the state It is an engaged study which fills important analytical gaps and addresses real world concerns exploring the uplands as components of national and global systems of meaning power and production It offers a significant re assessment of concepts processes histories relationships and discourses many of which are not unique to either the uplands or Indonesia making the book essential and compelling reading for both scholars and practitioners

Gender at Work in Economic Life Gracia Clark, 2003 This new volume from SEA illuminates the importance of gender as a frame of reference in the study of economic life The contributors are economic anthropologists who consider the role of gender and work in a cross cultural context examining issues of historical change the construction of globalization household authority and entitlement and entrepreneurship and autonomy The book will be a valuable resource for researchers in anthropology and in the related fields of economics sociology of work gender studies women s studies and economic development Published in cooperation with the Society for Economic Anthropology Visit their web page

Economic Development Jeffrey H. Cohen, Norbert Dannhaeuser, 2002-04-23 Economic development is an important focus of anthropological work in rural and urban communities around the world and in this volume the contributors offer expert analyses on the theory and practice of development Chapters cover the key topics of market systems agricultural knowledge modernization population growth participatory development conservation strategies culturally sustainable development globalization and privatization tourism urban development and financial markets The cross cultural focus of the volume provides original data on development processes in many countries including the Philippines Bali Costa Rica Mexico Honduras Venezuela Kazakstan and the United States The book will be a welcome source of comparative research for anthropologists development specialists agricultural researchers environmentalists and geographers Published in cooperation with the Society for Economic Anthropology Visit their web page Collective Action in the Formation of Pre-Modern States Richard Blanton, Lane Fargher, 2008 Anthropological archaeology and other disciplines concerned with the formation of early complex societies are undergoing a theoretical shift Given the need for new directions in theory the book proposes that anthropologists look to political science especially the rational choice theory of collective action The authors subject collective action theory to a methodologically rigorous evaluation using systematic cross cultural analysis based on a world wide sample of societies Economies and the Transformation of Landscape Lisa Cliggett, Christopher A. Pool, 2008 Economies and the Transformation of Landscape explores both the general and specific ways in which local economic ventures around the world such as mining ranching and farming affect the environment Labor in Cross-Cultural Perspective Society for Economic Anthropology (U.S.). Meeting, 2006 This excellent new volume in the series from the Society for Economic Anthropology focuses on the role of labor in world economies Contributors offer a range of case studies illustrating labor processes in both western and nonwestern societies Individual sections include discussions on household labor firms and corporations and state and transnational conditions This book will be a valuable resource for scholars students and interested readers of international economics anthropology development issues labor studies and sociology Commodities and Globalization Angelique Haugerud, Margaret Priscilla Stone, Peter D. Little, 2000 Today's growing fascination with flows of people commodities technology capital images and ideas across national and other boundaries poses fresh theoretical and methodological challenges to anthropology Commodities offer a particularly useful window on globalization because they unlike electronically conveyed capital transport cultural messages These ideological or symbolic transfers are of particular interest to economic anthropology This collection considers how conceptions and roles of commodities may change in response to widening spheres of economic interaction and exchange The essays in this volume are ordered under two themes Those included in the first section Commodities in a Globalizing Marketplace address historically and culturally defined variations in meanings and practices associated with commodities in globalizing markets In Part Two The Circulation and Revaluation of Commodities contributors analyze how commodity producers experiences are informed by colonial and post colonial history state directives in the marketplace and locations in dependent or marginalized regions The chapters all focus on the production process as it responds to is distorted by and increasingly is controlled by the determination of the value of those commodities outside a locality Globalisation and the Middle Classes in India Ruchira Ganguly-Scrase, Timothy J. Scrase, 2009 This book discusses and analyses both the economic and cultural sides to globalisation in India providing much needed data in relation to several dimensions including the changing costs of living household expenditure debt and consumerism employment and workplace restructuring gender relations and girls education global media and satellite television and the significance of English in a globalising India Book Jacket Economy, Culture, and Civil War in Sri Lanka Deborah Winslow, Michael D. Woost, 2004-09-02 Will be of interest to those working on conflict and peace studies economic development cultural studies and women in the modern world A key new publication Chandra R de Silva Old Dominion University offers a superb overview of how a civil war driven by ethnicity can engender a new culture and a new political economy Highly recommended Choice Economy Culture and Civil War in Sri Lanka provides a lucid and up to date interpretation of Sri Lankan society and its 20 year civil conflict An interdisciplinary examination of the relationship between the economy broadly defined and the reproduction of violent conflict this volume argues that the war is grounded not just in the goals and intentions of the opposing sides but also in the everyday orientations experiences and material practices of all Sri Lankan people The contributors explore changing political and policy contexts the effect of long term conflict on employment opportunities and life choices for rural and urban youth life histories memory and narratives of violence the economics of enlisting and individual decisions about involvement in the war and nationalism and the moral debate triggered by women s employment in the international garment manufacturing industry Contributors are Francesca Bremner Michele Ruth Gamburd Newton Gunasinghe Siri T Hettige Caitrin Lynch John M Richardson Jr Amita Shastri Deborah Winslow and Michael D Woost Home Cooking in the Global Village Richard Wilk, 2006-02-01 Winner of the Society for Economic Anthropology Annual Book Prize 2008 Belize a tiny corner of the Caribbean wedged into Central America has been a fast food nation since buccaneers and pirates first stole ashore As early as the 1600s it was already caught in the great paradox of globalization how can you stay local and relish your own home cooking while tasting the delights of the global marketplace Menus recipes and bad colonial poetry combine with Wilk s sharp anthropological insight to give an important new perspective on the perils and problems of globalization Population and Progress in a Yoruba Town Elisha P. Renne, 2003 Argues that progress and fertility cannot be expected to follow a universal trajectory The Politics of Swidden farming Debojyoti Das, 2018-09-28 The Politics of Swidden Farming offers a new explanation for the changes taking place in swidden farming practised in the highlands of eastern India through an ethnographic case study The book traces the story of agroecological change and state intervention to colonial times and helps understand contemporary agrarian change by contextualizing farming not just in terms of the science and technology of agriculture or conservation and biodiversity but also in terms of technologies of rule The Politics of Swidden Farming adds a new dimension to the underdeveloped literature on shifting cultivation in South Asia by focusing on the social ecology of farming and agrarian change in the hills It provides a comparative viewpoint to state centred and donor driven development in the frontier region by bringing in different actors and institutions that become the actants and agents of social change Understanding Disability Throughout History Hanna Björg Sigurjónsdóttir, James G. Rice, 2021-10-27 Understanding Disability Throughout History explores seldom heard voices from the past by studying the hidden lives of disabled people before the concept of disability existed culturally socially and administratively The book focuses on Iceland from the Age of Settlement traditionally considered to have taken place from 874 to 930 until the 1936 Law on Social Security L g um almannatryggingar which is the first time that disabled people were referenced in Iceland as a legal or administrative category Data sources analysed in the project represent a broad range of materials that are not often featured in the study of disability such as bone collections medieval literature and census data from the early modern era archaeological remains historical archives folktales and legends personal narratives and museum displays The ten chapters include contributions from multidisciplinary team of experts working in the fields of Disability Studies History Archaeology Medieval Icelandic Literature Folklore and Ethnology Anthropology Museum Studies and Archival Sciences along with a collection of post doctoral and graduate students The volume will be of interest to all scholars and students of disability studies history medieval studies ethnology folklore and archaeology
