George Moore:

George Moore and the Autogenous Self Elizabeth Grubgeld, 1994 Moore's work exhibits a profound recognition of the forces of heredity gender culture and history while simultaneously declaring his belief in an autogenous self In early novels like A Drama in Muslin and Esther Waters there is a notable conflict between his postulation of the pure instinctive individual and the emphasis upon the shaping power of heredity and economics inherent in the traditions of social realism that he adopts In The Untilled Field The Lake and later works Moore perfects a narrative technique that in highlighting the power of subjective memory allows his characters to work out a new relation with the forces of history
