Fifteenth- to Eighteenth-century European Paintings Metropolitan Museum of Art. Robert Lehman Collection, 1998

Landscape and Religion from Van Eyck to Rembrandt Boudewijn Bakker, 2017-07-05

Offering a corrective to the common scholarly characterization of seventeenth century Dutch landscape painting as modern realistic and secularized Boudewijn Bakker here explores the long history and purpose of landscape in Netherlandish painting In Bakker s view early Netherlandish as well as seventeenth century Dutch painting can be understood only in the context of the intellectual climate of the day Concentrating on landscape painting as the careful depiction of the visible world Bakker s analysis takes in the thought of figures seldom consulted by traditional art historians such as the fifteenth century philosopher Dionysius the Carthusian the sixteenth century religious reformer John Calvin the geographer Abraham Ortelius and the seventeenth century poet Constantijn Huygens Probing their conception of nature as the first Book of God and art as its representation Bakker identifies a world view that has its roots in the traditional Christian perceptions of God and creation Landscape and Religion from Van Eyck to Rembrandt imposes a new layer of interpretation on the richly varied landscapes of the great masters In so doing it adds a new dimension to the insights offered by modern art historical research Further Bakker s explorations of early modern art and literature provide essential background for any student of European intellectual history

Medieval Bruges Andrew Brown, Jan Dumolyn, 2018-05-03 Bruges was undoubtedly one of the most important cities in medieval Europe Bringing together specialists from both archaeology and history this total history presents an integrated view of the city s history from its very beginnings tracing its astonishing expansion through to its subsequent decline in the sixteenth century The authors analysis of its commercial growth industrial production socio political changes and cultural creativity is grounded in an understanding of the city s structure its landscape and its built environment More than just a biography of a city this book places Bruges within a wider network of urban and rural development and its history in a comparative framework thereby offering new insights into the nature of a metropolis

ReVisioning James Romaine, Linda Stratford, 2014-05-20 ReVisioning Critical Methods of Seeing Christianity in the History of Art examines the application of art historical methods to the history of Christianity and art As methods of art history have become more interdisciplinary there has been a notable emergence of discussions of religion in art history as well as related fields such as visual culture and theology This book represents the first critical examination of scholarly methodologies applied to the study of Christian subjects themes and contexts in art ReVisioning contains original work from a range of scholars each of whom has addressed the question in regard to a well known work of art or body of work How have particular methods of art history been applied and with what effect The study moves from the third century to the present providing extensive treatment and analysis of art historical methods applied to the history of Christianity and art

Early Netherlandish Painting at the Crossroads Maryan W. Ainsworth, 2001 The nine papers collected in this publication which comprises the third and latest edition to the symposium volumes by the Metropolitan Museum of Art were first presented in conjunction with the Museum's exhibition of Early Netherlandish painting culled from its own holdings in 1998 The essays by an international roster of leading specialists together uncover the circumstances underlying the creation of works of art and shed new light on their meaning in the context of the growing interdisciplinary activity and burgeoning scholarship in the field The importance of archival research into the socio economic factors that existed in the late fifteenth and early sixteenth centuries is emphasized especially the impact of art markets on the production of paintings as well as sculpture Much new material has surfaced as a result of advances in the technical investigation of works of art underscoring the premise that the clues to the meaning of a work are often found not only in its method of manufacture but also in the specific audience for which it was intended and in the function that it originally served for that audience Publisher description

Gardens of Love and the Limits of Morality in Early Netherlandish Art Andrea Pearson, 2019-02-26 In Gardens of Love and the Limits of Morality in Early Netherlandish Art Andrea Pearson charts the moralization of human bodies in late medieval and early modern visual culture through paintings by Jan van Eyck and Hieronymus Bosch devotional prints and illustrated books and the celebrated enclosed gardens of Mechelen among other works Drawing on new archival evidence and innovative visual analysis to reframe familiar religious discourses she demonstrates that depicted topographies advanced and sometimes resisted bodily critiques expressed in scripture conduct literature and even legislation Governing many of these redemptive green spaces were the figures of Christ and the Virgin Mary archetypes of purity whose spiritual authority was impossible to ignore yet whose mysteries posed innumerable moral challenges The study reveals that bodily status was the fundamental problem of human salvation in which artists patrons and viewers alike had an interpretive stake

Making Copies in European Art 1400-1600, 2018-11-26 Making Copies in European Art 1400-1600 comprises sixteen essays that explore the form and function manner and meaning of copies after Renaissance works of art The authors construe copying as a method of exchange based in the theory and practice of imitation and they investigate the artistic techniques that enabled and facilitated the production of copies They also ask what patrons and collectors wanted from a copy which characteristics of an artwork were considered copyable and where and how copies were stored studied displayed and circulated Making Copies in European Art in addition to studying many unfamiliar pictures incorporates previously unpublished documentary materials
