and Genre Theory in Transition Giuliana Garzone, 2014 This volume features representative studies focusing on the evolution of text genres in corporate and professional communication Genre change is explored in various contexts in light of the increasing importance of new media and the profound social changes that have occurred in the last few decades Major theoretical issues are raised and discussed highlighting the need to reconsider the repertoire of conventions traditionally identified in each specific genre and to reassess and update the analytical tools used to investigate them about three decades after the emergence of genre analysis
Analyzing Genres in Political Communication Piotr Cap, Urszula

Okulska, 2013-07-16 Featuring contributions by leading specialists in the field the volume is a survey of cutting edge research in genres in political discourse Since as is demonstrated political genres reveal many of the problems pertaining to the analysis of communicative genres in general it is also a state of the art addition to contemporary genre theory The book offers new methodological theoretical and empirical insights in both the long established genres speeches interviews policy documents etc and the modern rapidly evolving generic forms such as online political ads or weblogs The chapters which engage in timely issues of genre mediatization hybridity multimodality and the mixing of discursive styles come from a broad range of perspectives spanning Critical Discourse Studies pragmatics cognitive psychology sociolinguistics applied linguistics and media studies As such they constitute essential reading for anyone seeking an interdisciplinary yet coherent research agenda within the vast and complex territory of today s forms of political communication

Professional Genres from an Interpersonal Perspective Christopher Hopkinson, Renáta Tomášková, Gabriela Zapletalová, 2016-05-11 This volume brings together contributions focused on and shaped by two areas of linguistic research genre analysis and the interpersonal component of language and discourse It explores the interplay and interaction of genre and the interpersonal component revealing potential connections and interdependencies between genre conventions and the realisation of interpersonal meanings viewed from the perspective of the systemic functional approach to language and discourse analysis The contributions focus on a variety of aspects of the interpersonal in selected genres of professional discourse including not only communication among professionals but also genres produced by professionals to address non specialists The volume consists of nine chapters grouped into three sections guiding readers through four major discourse domains namely media discourse academic discourse institutional discourse and promotional discourse Institutional and promotional discourses are combined in a single section reflecting the hybridism of the majority of the genres under investigation here genres of institutional discourse typically exhibit features akin to advertising not only presenting the institutions in terms of the scope of their activities and services but also serving a clear promotional purpose The studies document how omnipresent varied and plentiful the strategies of intersubjective positioning are and how significant their position in genres and discourses invariably is The social and cultural grounding of genres requires them to be conventional yet it also ensures their flexibility continuous development and change qualities which make genres a permanent challenge and inspiration for research and discussion

Genre In The New Rhetoric Aviva Freedman, Peter Medway, 2003-09-02 In this work theorists reflect on the growing interest in genre studies in a number of inter related disciplines such as literary theory sociology and cultural studies and examine the implications this reconception of genre has on both research and teaching

Speech Genres and Other Late Essays M. M. Bakhtin, 2010-03-01 Speech Genres and Other Late Essays presents six short works from Bakhtin s Esthetics of Creative Discourse published in Moscow in 1979 This is the last of Bakhtin s extant manuscripts published in the Soviet Union All but one of these essays the one on the Bildungsroman were written in Bakhtin s later years and thus they bear the stamp of a thinker who has accumulated a huge storehouse of factual material to which he has devoted a lifetime of analysis reflection and reconsideration

Genres in the Internet Janet Giltrow, Dieter Stein, 2009-10-28 This volume brings together for the first time pragmatic rhetorical and literary perspectives on genre mapping theoretical frontiers and initiating a long overdue conversation amongst these methodologies The diverse approaches represented in this volume meet on common ground staked by Internet communication an arena challenging to traditional ideas of genre which assume a conventional stability at odds with the unceasing innovations of online discourse Drawing on and developing new ideas of genre the research reported in this volume shows on the contrary that genre study is a powerful means of testing commonplaces about the Internet world and in turn that the Internet is a fertile field for theorising genre

Special Issue: Genre- and Register-related Discourse Features in Contrast Marie-Aude Lefer, 2014

Methods of Critical Discourse Analysis Professor Ruth Wodak, Michael Meyer, 2001-10-25 This book is designed as an introduction to Critical Discourse Analysis CDA and gives an overview of the various theories and methods associated with this sociolinguistic approach It also introduces the reader to the leading figures in CDA and the methods to which they are most closely related The text aims to provide a comprehensive description of the individual methods an understanding of the theories to which methods refer and a comparative treatment of each of these methods so that students may be able to determine which is the most appropriate to select for their particular research question Given the balance between theory and application plus the intended audience no previous knowledge of CDA is assumed Methods of Critical Discourse Analysis should be useful reading for both students and researchers in the fields of linguistics sociology social psychology and the social sciences in general

Genre Theory in Information Studies Jack Andersen, 2015-02-18 This book highlights the important role genre theory plays within information studies It illustrates how modern genre studies inform and enrich the study of information and conversely how the study of information makes its own independent contributions to the study of genre

Discourse and Social Life Srikant Sarangi, Malcolm Coulthard, 2014-06-11 This collection brings together for the first time in a single volume many of the major figures in contemporary discourse studies Each chapter is an original contribution which has been specifically commissioned for this book and together they document the wide range of concerns and techniques which characterise the discipline at the turn of the century Discourse and Social Life is concerned with a variety of different types of data talk text and interaction and covers research sites which range from the home setting through the health care setting and the courtroom to the public sphere The book not only provides a critical historical overview of different traditions of discourse analysis but also projects to some extent the possible developments of this field of study as other allied disciplines Philosophy Psychology Sociology Rhetoric and Communication Studies are taking a discursive turn Readers are invited to draw parallels between these different approaches to studying discourse in its social context The contributors are Sally Candlin Malcolm Coulthard Justine Coupland Nikolas Coupland Norman Fairclough Ruqaiya Hasan Robert Kaplan Geoff Leech Yon Maley Greg Myers Celia

Roberts Srikant Sarangi Ron Scollon Theo van Leeuwen Henry Widdowson and Ruth Wodak Landmark Essays on Rhetorical Genre Studies Carolyn R. Miller, Amy J. Devitt, 2024-11-01 Landmark Essays on Rhetorical Genre Studies gathers major works that have contributed to the recent rhetorical reconceptualization of genre. A lively and complex field developed over the past 30 years, Rhetorical Genre Studies is central to many current research and teaching agendas. This collection, which is organized both thematically and chronologically, explores genre research across a range of disciplinary interests but with a specific focus on rhetoric and composition. With introductions by the co-editors to frame and extend each section, this volume helps readers understand and contextualize both the foundations of the field and the central themes and insights that have emerged. It will be of particular interest to students and scholars working on topics related to composition, rhetoric, professional and technical writing, and applied linguistics.

A new companion to the Romance languages Martin Glessgen, 2024-09-03 The Romance languages offer unique potential for empirical analysis and methodological innovation within the vast field of linguistics due to the survival of a large body of historical documentation, the rich diversity of dialects and languages, and the exceptional quality of the research undertaken to date. However, these same factors have led to an ever-increasing volume of material available for study, requiring the establishment of a shared canonical knowledge base. This companion offers a balanced overview of the core subjects and the methodology which make up the field of Romance linguistics. It provides a solid foundation in the discipline as well as easy and convenient access to highly specialised areas of research by means of systematic references to the latest handbooks and encyclopedias. The companion is designed to be read from cover to cover or to be consulted for information on specific topics. Advanced students, early career researchers, lecturers, specialists of other languages, philologists, and historians alike will all benefit from this accessible and up-to-date reference work as it enables readers to contextualise any knowledge of the discipline they may already possess.

Manual of Discourse Traditions in Romance Esme Winter-Froemel, Álvaro S. Octavio de Toledo y Huerta, 2022-11-07 Discourse Traditions are a key concept of diachronic Romance linguistics. The present manual aims to establish this approach at an international level by assembling contributions that introduce its theoretical foundations, discuss connections with alternative approaches of text and discourse analysis, show the relevance of Discourse Traditions for the history of Romance languages, and explore possibilities for future applications of the concept.
