Geography And Politics In Israel Since 1967:

Geography and Politics in Israel Since 1967 Elisha Efrat, 2005-08-16 First Published in 1988 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informa company Historic Palestine, Israel, and the Emerging Palestinian Autonomous Areas Laura Etheredge Assistant Editor, Middle East Geography, 2011-01-15 Explores the history of the region explains how it has changed over time and discusses the future of the area A History of the Israeli-Palestinian Conflict Mark Tessler, 2009-03-24 Mark Tessler's highly praised comprehensive and balanced history of the Israeli Palestinian conflict from the earliest times to the present updated through the first years of the 21st century provides a constructive framework for understanding recent developments and assessing the prospects for future peace Drawing upon a wide array of documents and on research by Palestinians Israelis and others Tessler assesses the conflict on both the Israelis and the Palestinians terms New chapters in this expanded edition elucidate the Oslo peace process including the reasons for its failure and the political dynamics in Israel the West Bank and Gaza at a critical time of transition Israeli Settlements Martin Blecher, 2018-10-15 Most research and analyses of Israel's settlement enterprise has focused on the usage of particular paragraphs in the Geneva Convention For over 50 years Israel has refuted the usage of the Geneva Convention with regards to its settlements Doing so the more relevant question arises on what laws governance and regulations is of importance in understanding Israelis behavior If one accepts the premise that Israel is occupying some areas and as an occupying force is forbidden to change laws from previous sovereign it becomes relevant as to what the laws are and how are they being followed The aim with this book is to go deeper to understand the rationale behind Israeli land policies This book is not necessarily a full rejection of the arguments that have been advocated by different scholars that seek to brand Israel's settlement enterprise as illegal nor is it to be understood as a full acceptance of those arguments at hand Rather I want this book to show nuances in an infective question The idea is to give the reader an insight into the arguments made by Israel and its judiciary which has not been properly addressed nor researched about through earlier scholars By including stories about personalities such as Rabbi Menachem Froman Shabtay Bendet this book aims to fulfill its purpose of not politicizing the Israeli settlement enterprise through one particular understanding Home, History and Possession in Israel-Palestine Tovi Fenster, 2024-09-05 Taking a micro geographical approach to Israeli Palestinian relations this book analyses the history of space and place in West Jerusalem and Jaffa in the context of specific addresses Based on the unique and innovative archaeology of addresses methodology the book provides an in depth analysis of 11 specific sites This micro perspective paying particular attention to the history and past ownership of an individual property allows the author to draw new insights into the process of population exchange that took place in 1948 when Jewish people began to populate Palestinian deserted homes after the Nakba By looking at archival planning documents the histories of addresses as contact zones between previous and current owners are revealed Moreover the research on each address highlights new theoretical understandings encompassing the micro politics of the contact zone mediated agonism ruins and beginnings creative destruction in urban planning the right to the city and the right to return the violence of property and fragmented settler colonialism The book concludes by proposing practical applications of the research in teaching and planning practice The book will prove important reading for students and researchers interested in urban planning Middle Eastern geography and the history of the Israeli Palestinian conflict

A Brief History of Israel Bernard Reich, 2008 Narrates the complex tale of Israel's people and their modern state established thousands of years after the destruction of the old one against the backdrop of exile anti-Semitism Zionism and the Holocaust

Cities in Transition Rita Schneider-Sliwa, 2006-01-23 This book was written with the aim of showing that even in the era of globalization developments appearing in cities are not subject to almost unconditional global forces Rather universal forces are decisive eventualities in the process of urban restructuring often influencing its course and speed yet developments and particularities within a city strongly influence the course of events and the extent to which negative characteristics of globalization might occur Berlin Brussels Hanoi Ho Chi Minh City Hong Kong Jerusalem Johannesburg Moscow St Petersburg Sarajevo and Vienna Using these important cities the special relationship between global and local regional forces is analyzed The case studies were selected based on their political and cultural context and the fact that their social and political fabric was subject to major changes in the recent past How global processes manifest themselves locally depends to a great extent on how development processes and endogenic potentials are initiated locally in order to cope with the new global economic and societal conditions

Political Decision Making and Non-Decisions R. Ranta, 2015-05-05 This book examines Israel's relationship and political decision making process towards the Occupied Territories from the aftermath of the Six Day War to the Labour Party's electoral defeat in 1977 The period represents the first decade of Israel's occupation of the Occupied Territories and the last decade in which the Labour Party was Israel's most dominant political force Arguing that the successive Israeli governments headed by the Labour Party lacked a strategic policy towards the Occupied Territories to address the country's objectives and needs this book demonstrates the detrimental effect this had on Israel on the Middle East in general and on the Palestinian people in particular In addressing key aspects of decision making pathologies this book raises issues which remain important features of Israeli politics today and an analysis relevant for political decision making worldwide

Israeli Planners and Designers John Forester, Raphael Fischler, Deborah Shmueli, 2012-02-01 This book documents the goals lives experiences and practice of planners architects and community organizers who have contributed to the physical and social development of the modern state of Israel In their own words these community builders share their professional experiences of how they protect and rebuild cities and neighborhoods how they overcome stereotypes and bureaucratic inertia how they protect the natural environment and the public health as well The stories illustrate the practical world of community change in which aesthetics and politics ethnicity and tradition commitment and inspiration hard work and hope all play a part Students of urban and community life in many countries will be able to draw elements and themes from these particular stories that resonate with their own concerns experience and future work

Ethnicity Housing Frederick W. Boal, 2020-09-29 This title was first published in 2000 This work has its origins in the 1995 Congress of the International Federation for Housing and Planning held in Belfast The theme was Accommodating Differences Differences were defined in broad terms and included ethnic and social economic and political differences However Frederick W Boal s own interest in ethnic differences motivated him to invite a number of Congress participants to make available their papers for inclusion in this book of essays It seeks to offer experience that can be drawn on by housing practitioners who are operating in multi ethnic contexts It also provides empirical material that should contribute to the development of more soundly based theoretical insights in both urban sociology and social geography

Enclosure Gary Fields, 2017-09-05 Enclosure marshals bold new arguments about the nature of the conflict in Israel Palestine Gary Fields examines the dispossession of Palestinians from their land and Israel s rationale for seizing control of Palestinian land in the contexts of a broad historical analysis of power and space and of an enduring discourse about land improvement Focusing on the English enclosures which eradicated access to common land across the English countryside Amerindian dispossession in colonial America and Palestinian land loss Fields shows how exclusionary landscapes have emerged across time and geography Evidence that the same moral legal and cartographic arguments were used by enclosers of land in very different historical environments challenges Israel s current claim that it is uniquely beleaguered This comparative framework also helps readers in the United States and the United Kingdom understand the Israeli Palestinian conflict in the context of their own histories

Internal Migration in the Countries of Asia Martin Bell, Aude Bernard, Elin Charles-Edwards, Yu Zhu, 2020-07-20 This book explores how population mobility varies among the countries of Asia While much attention has been given to international migration movement within countries is numerically much more significant Coupling innovative methods developed in the global IMAGE project with the contextual knowledge of experts on 15 Asian countries the book measures and explains how people across Asia differ in the probability of changing residence the ages at which they move and the impact of these migrations on the distribution of human settlement within each country It demonstrates how stage of economic development coupled with historical events local contingencies cultural norms political frameworks and the physical environment shape human migration By using rigorous statistics in a robust comparative framework this book provides a clear understanding of contemporary migration in Asia for students and academics and a valuable resource for policy makers and planners in Asia and beyond Redefining Security David T. Graham, Nana Poku, 1998-10-30

International migration has become a major domestic political issue in many countries and a major topic of international debate. Thus far most of the attention has centered on the plight of refugees or on ways to curb the flow of illegal immigrants. As more and more migrants cross interstate boundaries, however, governments are realizing that immigration and asylum problems cannot be separated from broader socio-economic and political issues, nor can they be resolved by countries acting unilaterally. Even with this understanding, attempts to develop multilateral strategies to ease international tensions arising from uncontrolled migration will be complicated by economic disparities, regional political tensions, and mounting population and ecological pressures. Internal migration, particularly in terms of forced resettlement and urbanization, also gives rise to a myriad of problems relating to aspects of security. The increase in other major population movements, such as tourism and business travel, also has implications for security. Until recently, the question of what is security was rarely asked in the context of these developments. This was because there was a perceived consensus on what the nature of security was. The nature of security was held to mean national political and military security. Thus security was virtually synonymous with defense. The theoretical claim of this volume is that these developments are necessitating a redefinition of security. This volume provides major theoretical analyses of these trends, as well as in-depth case studies that explore specific developments of major concern to scholars and other researchers involved with international relations, migration, and development issues.
