Genius Decision The Extraordinary And The Postmodern Condition:

The Genius Decision Klaus Ottmann, 2004-02-19 While there is no essentialist quality of genius the postmodern artist can reach the extraordinary by way of an active passive Genius Decision which is engaged in an activity of failure in its desire to represent the nonrepresentable

Minding the Gap Thom Conroy, Gail Pittaway, 2015-10-13 Passengers on the British railway and underground must mind the gap because it's dangerous not to. In a state of embarking or disembarking passengers must stay aware of the small but significant space separating the stationary from the moving. The contemporary practices of writing and reading are in constant motion and the phrase mind the gap captures an essential aspect of the way language and literature progress as they pass through any number of social technical and political exchanges. Minding the gap also suggests an awareness of the always shifting distance between the expected and the unexpected, the ordinary and the impossible, the familiar and the unimagined. This book includes chapters on writing non-fiction, media and genre and also addresses elements of identity, culture and linguistics in fiction, poetry and creative non-fiction as contributors consider the gaps that exist between the self as writer, as reader and as editor or mentor. The volume adopts the following key themes: new gaps for creative writing in the academy, writing in new genres, media and forms, exploring the creative process and narrative strategies across disciplines. This book will be of international appeal to all readers interested in the changing landscape of creative writing.

Steering Human Evolution Yehezkel Dror, 2020-05-07 Humanity must steer its evolution. As human knowledge moves a step ahead of Darwin's theories, this book presents the emergence of human-made meta-evolution, shaping our alternative futures. This novel process poses fateful challenges to humanity which require regulation of emerging science and technology which may endanger the future of our species. However, to do so successfully, a novel humanity craft has to be developed. Main ideologies and institutions need redesign. National sovereignty has to be limited. A decisive global regime becomes essential. Some revaluation of widely accepted norms becomes essential and a novel type of political leader based on merit in addition to public support is urgently needed. Taking into account the strength of nationalism and vested interests, it may well be that only catastrophes will teach humanity to metamorphose into a novel epoch without too high transition costs. But initial steps such as United Nations reforms are urgent in order to contain calamities and may soon become feasible. Being both interdisciplinary and based on personal experience of the author, this book adds up to a novel paradigm on steering human evolution. It will be of great interest to scholars and researchers of modern history, evolution, sciences, future studies, political science, philosophy of action and science and technology. It will also be of wide appeal to the general reader anxious about the future of life on Earth.

Comments on the Corona pandemic add to the book's concrete significance.

God in the Gallery (Cultural Exegesis) Daniel A. Siedell, 2008-10-01 Is contemporary art a friend or foe of Christianity? Art historian, critic and curator Daniel Siedell addresses this question and presents a framework for interpreting art from a Christian worldview in God in the Gallery: A Christian Embrace of Modern Art. As such, it is an excellent companion to Francis Schaeffer's classic Art and the Bible Divided into three parts Theology History and Practice God in the Gallery demonstrates that art is in conversation with and not opposed to the Christian faith In addition this book is beautifully enhanced with images from such artists as Andy Warhol Jackson Pollock Enrique Martínez Celaya and others Readers of this book will include professors students artists and anyone interested in Christianity and culture Rethinking the Contemporary Art School Brad Buckley, John Conomos, 2009 Edited by Brad Buckley John Conomos Thought Through My Eyes Klaus Ottmann, 2006-07-13 In this volume the acclaimed art critic and curator and author of The Essential Mark Rothko and The Genius Decision The Extraordinary and the Postmodern Condition has gathered the bulk of his published essays on art essays that combine the author's background as a philosopher with the vision and ideas of contemporary artists
