Hemraj B Chandalia, Bb Ed Tripathy, 2012-01-15. The second edition was published in 2008 only two years after the first but went out of print before a third edition could be prepared so this revised version of the second edition is published to bridge the gap. Under the auspices of the Research Society for the Study of Diabetes in India endocrinologists immunologists and other specialists present a broad reference on the disease of which India has more cases than any other country. After a review of landmarks in the history of diabetes they cover physiology and metabolism diagnosis and classification epidemiology etiopathogenesis of diabetes mellitus genetics and immunology clinical profile management co morbid conditions complications diabetes through life and events living with diabetes health care delivery and prevention. The two volumes are paged continuously and both contain the combined index.

New Developments in Parent-child Relations Dorothy M. Devore, 2006. In the life of a person there are probably no events outside influences or genetic characteristics even approaching the significance of the broad category of acts and actions called parent child relations. These include decisions and actions and lack thereof from the first day of life and sometimes throughout the life span. They include learning by example schooling disciplining coping skills behavioural practices eating habits communication skills conflict management and a plethora of other actions. This book presents new research in this dynamic field.
