The use of many kinds of art media providing examples of developmentally appropriate activities to improve children's thinking and learning. Moving away from art that is solely created to be cute and pleasing to adults to art experiences that develop the child's individual expression. The authors have given the field of early education a valuable usable gift one that will have a great impact on young children's lives and those who teach them. From the Foreword by Carol Seefeldt. The Colors of Learning provides a new awareness of why and how to integrate art into all subject areas in early childhood curriculum should help all teachers of young children to enhance and enjoy their teaching and the children's learning. Meg Barden Cline, Lecturer retired, University of Massachusetts at Amherst.

Teaching Young Children: Choices In Theory And Practice Mac Naughton, Glenda, Williams, Gillian, 2008-11-01. This book presents early childhood students and staff with a broad and diverse range of teaching techniques to support children's learning. It examines 26 techniques ranging from simple ones such as describing and listening to more complex methods such as deconstruction and scaffolding. The strategies selected are derived from the best current research knowledge about how young children learn. A detailed evaluation of each strategy enables childcare staff, early childhood teachers and students to expand their repertoire of teaching strategies and to critically evaluate their own teaching in early childhood settings. Vignettes and examples show how early childhood staff use the techniques to support children's learning and help to bring the discussion of each technique to life. Revised and updated in light of the latest research, new features include: Coverage of the phonics debate; Addition of ICT content; Questions for further discussion; Revision to the chapter on problem solving; Updated referencing throughout. Teaching Young Children is key reading for students and experienced early childhood staff working in diverse settings with young children.

Seen and Heard Ellen Lynn Hall, Jennifer Kofkin Rudkin, 2011-01-13. Using examples from a Reggio inspired school with children from ages 6 weeks to 6 years, the authors emphasize the importance of children's rights and our responsibility as adults to hear their voices. Seen and Heard summarizes research and theory pertaining to young children's rights in the United States and offers strategies educators can use to ensure the inclusion of children's perspectives in everyday decisions. Real life classroom vignettes illustrate how young children perceive the idea of rights through observation and discussion. The authors' work is based on these essential ideas: 1. the one hundred languages children use for exploring, discovering, constructing, representing and conveying their ideas; 2. the pedagogy of listening in which children and adults carefully attend to the world and to one another; 3. the notion that all children have the right to participate in the communities in which they reside.
