Mental Health and Disasters Yuval Neria,Sandro Galea,Fran H. Norris,2009-07-20 Since the attacks of September 11 2001 disaster preparedness and response has developed into a discrete subspecialty in medicine and the paramount health care initiative of the US Government The mental health component of disaster response is a serious subject of study as trauma is associated with a substantial and long lasting psychologic burden both on an individual and community level The psychopathologies associated with disaster are also quite broad varying from several different types of post traumatic stress and anxiety disorders to acute variations of grief associated depression This book is the definitive reference on mental health and disasters focused on the assessment and treatment of the full spectrum of psychopathologies associated with many different types of individual disasters The logistics for utilizing pre existing community based mental health services as well as the development of new programs are covered in depth Case studies and perspectives for improving care incorporating lessons from Hurricane Katrina and 9 11 are included in detail   Coping in Crisis Katherine K.P. Young,1983-07-01 COPING IN CRISIS attempts to examine crisis resolution processes in the light of the time honoured Chinese perspective that crisis is a time of danger and a time of opportunity It presents a specific approach to crisis intervention designed to turn the dangers demands and deprivations inherent in crisis situations along positive lines and provides an impetus for growth The Hong Kong crisis study reported in this book examines the nature of personal and family crises over which people in Hong Kong seek help from the family service centres of the Social Welfare Department and Caritas It also seeks to discover whether opportunities for growth and learning are present despite the risks to which the person in crisis is exposed
