Elogio Da Mentira:

Elogio da mentira Patrícia Melo, 2010      The Oxford Handbook of the Latin American Novel Juan E. De Castro, Ignacio Lòpez-Calvo, 2023

The Latin American novel burst onto the international literary scene with the Boom era led by Julio Cortázar, Gabriel García Márquez, Carlos Fuentes and Mario Vargas Llosa and has influenced writers throughout the world ever since. García Márquez and Vargas Llosa each received the Nobel Prize in literature and many of the best known contemporary novelists are inspired by the region's fiction. Indeed, magical realism, the style associated with García Márquez, has left a profound imprint on African American, African, Asian, Anglophone, Caribbean and Latinx writers. Furthermore, post-Boom literature continues to garner interest from the novels of Roberto Bolaño to the works of César Aira and Chico Buarque to those of younger novelists such as Juan Gabriel Vásquez, Alejandro Zambra and Valeria Luiselli. Yet for many readers, the Latin American novel is often read in a piecemeal manner, delinked from the traditions, authors and social contexts that help explain its evolution. The Oxford Handbook of the Latin American Novel draws literary, historical and social connections so that readers will come away understanding this literature as a rich and compelling canon. In forty-five chapters by leading and innovative scholars, the Handbook provides a comprehensive introduction helping readers to see the region's intrinsic heterogeneity; for only with a broader view can one fully appreciate García Márquez or Bolaño. This volume charts the literary tradition of the Latin American novel from its beginnings during colonial times, its development during the nineteenth and the first half of the twentieth century, and its flourishing from the 1960s onward. Furthermore, the Handbook explores the region's representations of identity, narrative trends and authors that make this literature so diverse and fascinating, reflecting on the Latin American novel's position in world literature.

Imagining Brazil Jessé Souza, Valter Sinder, 2007-01-01

Imagining Brazil provides a comprehensive and multifaceted picture of Brazil in the age of globalization. Privileging diversity in relation to the authors as well as the manner in which Brazil is perceived, Jessé Souza and Valter Sinder have assembled historians, political scientists, sociologists, literary critics and scholars of culture in an attempt to understand a complex society in all its richness and diversity. Rising from one of the world's poorest societies in the 1930s to the eighth largest world economy in the 1980s, Brazil is used as an example of globalization's impact on peripheral societies, exploring in new contexts the serious social problems that have always characterized this society. Imagining Brazil explores the connections between society and politics and culture and literature, creating an encompassing volume of interest to scholars of Latin American studies as well as those interested in how globalization impacts the varied aspects of a country.

Brazilian Literature as World Literature Eduardo F. Coutinho, 2018-02-22

Brazilian Literature as World Literature is not only an introduction to Brazilian literature but also a study of the connections between Brazil's literary production and that of the rest of the world, particularly European and North American literatures. It highlights the tension that has always existed in Brazilian literature between the imitation of European models and forms and a yearning for a tradition of its own, as well as the attempts by modernist writers to propose possible solutions such as aesthetic cannibalism to overcome this tension Revista Academia Brasileira de Letras,1920 The Columbia Guide to the Latin American Novel Since 1945 Raymond L. Conceitos como o de transformações em sonho, as próprias sessões consideradas como sonho, as pessoas transformadas em personagens, os personagens considerados como modalidades de funcionamento de uma mente ou do campo constituído por duas mentes, nos conduzem em direção a novas modelizações da mente no interior das quais são possíveis viagens no tempo, no espaço e em universos e mundos paralelos.
