Spanish Sentences Vol.5 Nik Marcel,2014-09-04 Spanish Sentences Vol 5 English Spanish THIS EDITION Volume 5 of Spanish Sentences contains a series of articles and accompanying sentences The sentences provide insight into grammatical structure and sentence building strategies The idea is to study these sentences and then read the articles The source of the articles is the official Spanish language blog of the United States government gobiernoUSA gov Please note the articles are not always exactly as they appear on the official gobiernoUSA website They have in some cases been shortened simplified or generalised The Spanish articles have been translated into English for this dual language project The dual language text in the articles has been arranged into sentences and short paragraphs for quick and easy cross referencing The reader can choose between four formats Section 1 English to Spanish Section 2 Spanish to English Section 3 English Section 4 Spanish A methodology for getting the most out of this bilingual format is explained in the book s Foreword This edition can be used on its own However the content is ideal for reinforcing grammar and as a precursor to more advanced bilingual editions Topics in this text include technology travel environment family babies family children family general health general mental health and finance A Dual Language Book Project 2Language Books Maternal Transition Candace Johnson,2014-07-11 What are the political dimensions that are revealed in women s preferences for health care during pregnancy and childbirth The answers to this question vary from one community to the next and often from woman to the next although the trends in the Global North and South are strikingly different Employing three conceptual frames medicalization the public private distinction and intersectionality Candace Johnson examines these differences through the narratives of women in Canada the United States Cuba and Honduras In Canada and the United States women from privileged and marginalized social groups demonstrate the differences across the North South divide and women in Cuba and Honduras speak to the realities of severely constrained decision making in developing countries Each case study includes narratives drawn from in depth interviews with women who were pregnant or who had recently had children Johnson argues that women s expressed preferences in different contexts reveal important details about the inequality that they experience in that context in addition to as various elements of identity Both inequality and identity are affected by the ways in which women experience the division between public and private lives the life of the community and the life of the home and family as well as the consequences of intersectionality the combinations of various sources of disadvantage and women s reactions to these either in the form of resistance or compliance The rigorous and highly original cross cultural and comparative research on health gender poverty and social context makes Maternal Transition an excellent contribution to global maternal health policy debates
