Embodied Rhetorics James C. Wilson, Cynthia Lewiecki-Wilson, 2001 Presenting thirteen essays editors James C Wilson and Cynthia Lewiecki Wilson unite the fields of disability studies and rhetoric to examine connections between disability education language and cultural practices Bringing together theoretical and analytical perspectives from rhetorical studies and disability studies these essays extend both the field of rhetoric and the newer field of disability studies The contributors span a range of academic fields including English education history and sociology Several contributors are themselves disabled or have disabled family members While some essays included in this volume analyze the ways that representations of disability construct identity and attitudes toward the disabled other essays use disability as a critical modality to rethink economic theory educational practices and everyday interactions Among the disabilities discussed within these contexts are various physical disabilities mental illness learning disabilities deafness blindness and diseases such as multiple sclerosis and AIDS Bodies of Knowledge A. Abby Knoblauch, Marie E. Moeller, 2022-07-15 Bodies of Knowledge challenges homogenizing mis understandings of knowledge construction and provides a complex discussion of what happens when we do not attend to embodied rhetorical theories and practices Because language is always a reflection of culture to attempt to erase language and knowledge practices that reflect minoritized and historically excluded cultural experiences obscures the legitimacy of such experiences both within and outside the academy The pieces in Bodies of Knowledge draw explicit attention to the impact of the body on text the impact of the body in text the impact of the body as text and the impact of the body upon textual production The contributors investigate embodied rhetorics through the lenses of race and ethnicity gender and sexuality disability and pain technologies and ecologies clothing and performance and scent silence and touch In doing so they challenge the false notion that academic knowledge that is real knowledge is disembodied and therefore presumed white middle class cis het able bodied and male This collection lays bare how myriad bodies invent construct deliver and experience the processes of knowledge building Experts in the field of writing studies provide the necessary theoretical frameworks to better understand productive and unproductive uses of embodied rhetorics within the academy and in the larger social realm To help meet the theoretical and pedagogical needs of the discipline Bodies of Knowledge addresses embodied rhetorics and embodied writing more broadly though a rich varied and intersectional approach These authors address larger questions around embodiment while considering the various impacts of the body on theories and practices of rhetoric and composition Contributors Scot Barnett Margaret Booker Katherine Bridgman Sara DiCaglio Kristie S Fleckenstein Vyshali Manivannan Temptaous Mckoy Julie Myatt Julie Nelson Ruth Osorio Kate Pantelides Caleb Pendygraft Nadya Pittendrigh Kellie Sharp Hoskins Anthony Stagliano Megan Strom Embodied Rhetorics James C. Wilson, Cynthia Lewiecki-Wilson, 2001 Featuring 13 essays this collection unites the fields of disability studies and rhetoric to examine connections between disability education language and cultural practices. The contributors span a range of academic fields including English education history and sociology Culture & Rhetoric Ivo A. Strecker, Stephen A. Tyler, 2009 While some scholars have said that there is no such thing as culture and have urged to abandon the concept altogether the contributors to this volume overcome this impasse by understanding cultures and their representations for what they ultimately are rhetorical constructs These senior international scholars explore the complex relationships between culture and rhetoric arguing that just as rhetoric is founded in culture culture is founded in rhetoric This intersection constitutes the central theme of the first part of the book while the second is dedicated to the study of figuration as a common ground of rhetoric and anthropology The book offers a compelling range of theoretical reflections historical vistas and empirical investigations which aim to show how people talk themselves and others into particular modalities of thought and action and how rhetoric and culture in this way are co emergent It thus turns a new page in the history of academic discourse by bringing two disciplines anthropology and rhetoric together in a way that has never been done before Publisher's website Rhetorics Jonathan Alexander, Jacqueline Rhodes, 2015-10-16 Sexual rhetoric is the self conscious and critical engagement with discourses of sexuality that exposes both their naturalization and their queering their torquing to create different or counter discourses giving voice and agency to multiple and complex sexual experiences. Disability Rhetoric Jay Timothy Dolmage,2014-01-22 Disability Rhetoric is the first book to view rhetorical theory and history through the lens of disability studies Traditionally the body has been seen as at best a rhetorical distraction at worst those whose bodies do not conform to a narrow range of norms are disqualified from speaking Yet Dolmage argues that communication has always been obsessed with the meaning of the body and that bodily difference is always highly rhetorical Following from this rewriting of rhetorical history he outlines the development of a new theory affirming the ideas that all communication is embodied that the body plays a central role in all expression and that greater attention to a range of bodies is therefore essential to a better understanding of rhetorical histories theories and possibilities Walking and Talking Feminist Rhetorics Lindal Buchanan, Kathleen J. rhetorical practice of kairos in relation to the proximity between bodies Walters demonstrates how writers with physical disabilities move beyond approaches of pathos based on pity and inspiration The volume also includes a classroom based exploration of the discourses and assumptions regarding bodies in relation to haptic or touch based technologies Because the sense of touch is the most persistent of the senses Walters argues that in contexts of disability and in situations in which people with and without disabilities interact touch can be a particularly vital instrument for creating meaning connection and partial identification She contends that a rhetoric thus reshaped stretches contemporary rhetoric and composition studies to respond to the contributions of disabled rhetors and transforms the traditional rhetorical appeals and canons Ultimately Walters argues a rhetoric of touch allows for a richer understanding of the communication processes of a wide range of rhetors who use embodied strategies Best of the Journals in Rhetoric and Composition 2019 Jessica Pauszek, David Blakesley, 2019-10-13 Best of the Journals in Rhetoric and Composition 2019 represents the result of a nationwide conversation beginning with journal editors but expanding to teachers scholars and workers across the discipline of Rhetoric and Composition to select essays that showcase the innovative and transformative work now being published in the field s journals Representing both print and digital journals the essays featured here explore issues ranging from classroom practice to writing in global and digital contexts from border rhetorics to social justice research Together the essays provide readers with a rich understanding of the present and future direction of the field The anthology features work by the following authors and representing these journals Amber Simpson and Kristi Girdharry Elaine Richardson and Alice Ragland Community Literacy Journal Shari J Stenberg Rhetoric Society Quarterly David Riche Literacy in Composition Studies Eileen Kogl Camfield Lara Killick and Ruth Lewis Journal of Teaching Writing Elizabeth G Allan Pedagogy Christina Saidy WPA Writing Program Administration Anthony Warnke and Kirsten Higgins Teaching English in the Two Year College Cati V de los Ros and Kate Seltzer Research in the Teaching of English Romeo Garc a Writing Center Journal Wendy Pfrenger Journal of Basic Writing Janine Butler Rhetoric Review Pamela Takayoshi College Composition and Communication Maria Novotny and John T Gagnon Reflections Kate Vieira Writing on the Edge Feminist Rhetorical Science Studies Julie Jung, Amanda Booher, 2018-01-30 This edited collection disrupts tendencies in feminist science studies to dismiss rhetoric as having concern only for language and it counters posthumanist theories that ignore human materialities and asymmetries of power as co constituted with and through distinctions such as gender sex race and ability The eight essays of Feminist Rhetorical Science Studies Human Bodies Posthumanist Worlds model methodologies for doing feminist research in the rhetoric of science Collectively they build innovative interdisciplinary bridges across the related but divergent fields of feminism posthumanism new materialism and the rhetoric of science Each essay addresses a question How can feminist rhetoricians of science engage responsibly with emerging theories of the posthuman Some contributors respond with case studies in medical practice fetal ultrasound patient noncompliance medical science the neuroscience of sex differences and health policy drug
