(Japan), 1972
der Wirtschaftswissenschaften, 1990
Congress. House. Committee on Government Operations. Government Information, Justice, and Agriculture Subcommittee, 1992
The purpose of the hearings presented in this Congressional document was to highlight the enterprising inventive and imaginative ways that people use public information and ways that agencies disseminate it
Witnesses were called who could provide information about 1 how federal data is used by people who make genuine contributions to the nation's economy and democratic processes
2 the importance of making information available in electronic formats
3 innovative and inexpensive ways of making information available
4 the needs of users of federal information 5 the techniques and technologies of information access and 6 the impact of the high cost of public information
This report includes statements from 17 witnesses representing a variety of agencies such as federal agencies including the General Accounting Office the Association of Research Libraries the information industry including USA Today and DIALOG nonprofit organizations such as the Regional Contracting and Assistance Center which disseminates public information to assist in economic development and public interest organizations including OMB Watch a research educational and advocacy organization that monitors Executive Branch activities
Also included are prepared statements submitted for the record by the witnesses and four appendices which include three additional statements an article from the Wall Street Journal working notes and a letter
