Brenišínová,2022-09-30 This volume focuses on the Catholic tradition of consecrated life vita religiosa from the High Middle Ages to the present It gathers papers by authors from various disciplinary backgrounds in particular art history history anthropology and translation studies Three Purgatory Poems Edward E Foster,2004-07-01 Though our modern understanding of the medieval doctrine of Purgatory is generally shaped by its presentation by Dante in the Divine Comedy there is a lengthy history of speculation about the nature of such a place of purgation Through these fourteenth century Middle English poems readers can experience something of the controversies that surfaced and resurfaced even after Aquinas had articulated his doctrine of the Communion of Saints The Gast of Gy as Foster notes puts a human face on the doctrine of Purgatory not only in the amiable logical and patient person of the Gast of Gy himself but also in the careful and cautious dialogue between the Gast and the Pryor who questions him Sir Owain and The Vision of Tundale present two accounts of the purgatorial journeys of living individuals who are offered a chance to see the torments they have brought upon themselves by their less than perfect lives along with the opportunity to return and amend those lives All three poems were quite popular as was the doctrine of Purgatory itself And why not As Foster notes in his general introduction it the doctrine of Purgatory had everything adventure and adversity suffering and excitement and most importantly a profound theological warning wrapped in the joyful solace of communion with the departed and hope for our own sinful selves The Transmission of Affect Teresa Brennan, 2014-02-15 The idea that one can soak up someone else's depression or anxiety or sense the tension in a room is familiar Indeed phrases that capture this notion abound in the popular vernacular negative energy dumping you could cut the tension with a knife The Transmission of Affect deals with the belief that the emotions and energies of one person or group can be absorbed by or can enter directly into another The ability to borrow or share states of mind once historically and culturally assumed is now pathologized as Teresa Brennan shows in relation to affective transfer in psychiatric clinics and the prevalence of psychogenic illness in contemporary life To neglect the mechanism by which affect is transmitted the author claims has serious consequences for science and medical research Brennan's theory of affect is based on constant communication between individuals and their physical and social environments Her important book details the relationships among affect energy and new maladies of the soul including attention deficit disorder chronic fatigue syndrome codependency and fibromyalgia Between Church and State Bernard Guenée, 1991 For the past several decades French historians have emphasized the writing of history in terms of structures cultures and mentalities an approach exemplified by proponents of the Annales school With this volume Bernard Guenée himself associated with the Annalistes marks a decisive break with this dominant mode of French historiography Still recognizing the Annalistes indispensable contribution Guenée turns to the genre of biography as a way to attend more closely to chance to individual events and personalities and to a sense of time as people actually experienced it without sacrificing the conceptual rigor made possible by crisply stated problems His engaging and detailed study links in sequence the lives of four French bishops who because of their office were intellectuals and politicians as well These men rose in the hierarchy that was medieval society by dint of talent and ambition not birth What Guenée reveals is the career patterns and politics of an era that privileged youth yet granted certain advantages to those such as Guenée's subjects who survived to old age He illustrates not only how these and other medieval men of the church were schooled but also how they learned from life illuminating medieval and early modern history through their writings Jacket Plan of Seattle Seattle (Wash.). Municipal Plans Commission, Virgil Gay Bogue, 1911 Lower than the Angels Diarmaid MacCulloch, 2025-04-15 A magisterial new history The New York Times An epic tale and MacCulloch is an undaunted guide New York Review of Books A groundbreaking history of sexual emotion sexual activity gender relations marriage and the family and how Christianity has interacted with this panorama of human concerns Few matters produce more public interest and public anxiety than sex and religion Much of the political contention and division in societies across the world centres on sexual topics and one third of the global population is Christian in background or outlook The issue goes to the heart of present day religion This book seeks to calm fears and encourage understanding through telling a three thousand year long tale of Christians encountering sex gender and the family The message of Lower than the Angels is simple necessary and timely to pay attention to the complexity and contradictions in the history of Christianity The reader can decide from the story told here whether there is a single Christian theology of sex or many contending voices in a symphony that is not at all complete Oxford's Emeritus Professor of the History of the Church introduces an epic of ordinary and extraordinary Christians trying to make sense of themselves and of humanity's deepest desires fears and hopes
