Effects Of Nuclear War:

The Environmental Effects Of Nuclear War Julius London, Gilbert F White, 2019-07-11 This book assesses the current available information concerning the major scientific problems related to environmental consequences of a possible nuclear war The contributors address a broad range of topics among them the effects of blast heat and local radioactive fallout the likely dispersal patterns and residence times of radioactive debris in the troposphere and stratosphere the probable long term effects on both the local and global biosphere and radiological consequences for humans the effect on the global environment of widespread fires in urban and industrialized regions and the likely significant decrease of stratospheric ozone with a resulting long term increase in harmful UV radiation received at the ground The authors point to problem areas where current information is inadequate or completely lacking and discuss the role of the scientist in developing such information as a contribution to the elimination of the nuclear war threat The Effects of Nuclear War United States. Congress. Office of Technology Assessment, 1980 Biological and Environmental Effects of Nuclear War United States. Congress. Joint Committee on Atomic Energy, 1959 The Medical Implications of Nuclear War Institute of Medicine, 1986 The first part of this interdisciplinary study of the consequences of nuclear war provides an overview of its physical and environmental effects urban fires nuclear winter nuclear famine and toxic environments Part II considers the consequences from the standpoint of death injuries and the health of survivors and describes the effects of radiation exposure food shortages and malnutrition on the prospects of survival and psychological consequences Part III reviews the demand for medical resources after a nuclear attack and estimates the actual supply likely to be available Part IV addresses the nuclear arms race from a psychosocial point of view while Part V offers views on the prospects for recovery from nuclear war ISBN 0 309 03692 5 43 50 The Effects of Nuclear War United States. trying to find out what the scientific community was doing about the problem and what steps could be taken to alert the environmental movement to the need to address the subject We knew that a large scale nuclear war might kill from 300 million to a billion people outright and that another billion could suffer serious injuries requiring immediate medical attention care that would be largely unavailable But what kind of world would survivors face Would the long term consequences prove to humanity and survival of all species than the to be even more serious immediate effects We found that comparatively little scientific research had been done about the environmental consequences of a nuclear war of the magnitude that today's huge arsenal could unleash
