

VARIATIONS IN HEALTH PERSPECTIVES AND PRIORITIES ACCORDING TO AGE, CULTURE, RELIGION, GENDER & SES.

Culture

- Different cultures have different views and perspectives on health and wellbeing. Western cultures, such as Australia generally view health & wellbeing within the context of professional medical practices. Some cultures such as traditional Vietnamese believe ill health is a result of supernatural context and promote prayer and cultural intervention.
- In many Asian cultures, decisions about health and wellbeing are made by the eldest male member of the family. In some cultures individuals are unable to discuss mental disorders let alone accept assistance from health professionals due to shame and failure.
- Many Australians are trying Chinese medicine these days to assist with healing.

Public Health Perspectives on Disability Donald J. Lollar, Elena M. Andresen, 2010-11-08 Traditionally the public health viewpoint on disability was geared toward primary prevention of disabling conditions or events More recently with the movement for disability rights and the emergence of disability studies the challenge to the field has been to promote positive health outcomes in this underserved community Such a change in public health culture must start at the educational level yet training programs have generally been slow in integrating this perspective with its potential for enriching the field into their curricula Public Health Perspectives on Disability meets this challenge with an educational framework for rethinking disability in public health study and practice and for attaining the competencies that should accompany this knowledge This reference balances history and epidemiology scientific advances advocacy and policy issues real world insights and progressive recommendations suiting it especially to disability focused courses or to add disability related content to existing public health programs Each chapter applies awareness and understanding of disabled persons experience to one of the core curriculum areas including Health services administration Environmental health science and occupational health Health law and ethics The school as physical setting Maternal child and family health Disasters and disability In Public Health Perspectives on Disability faculty researchers administrators and students in graduate schools of public health throughout the U S will find a worthy classroom text and a robust source of welcome and much needed change Index of NLM Serial Titles National Library of Medicine (U.S.),1979 A keyword listing of serial titles currently received by the National Library of Medicine Philosophical and Theoretical Perspectives for Advanced Nursing Practice William K. Environmental Health Perspectives ,1993 Neuroethics Judy Illes,Sharmin Hossain,2017 Over the last decade there have been unparalleled advances in our understanding of brain sciences In this volume on neuroethics a distinguished group of contributors from a range of disciplines discuss the ethical implications of this newfound knowledge and set out the many necessary considerations for the future Speaking for Ourselves Julian Agyeman,Peter Cole,Randolph Haluza-DeLay,Pat O'Riley,2010-01-01 The concept of environmental justice has evolved over the past two decades to offer a new direction for social movements public policy and public planning Researchers worldwide now position social equity as a building block for sustainability Yet the relationship between social equity and the environmental aspects of sustainability has been little studied in Canada Speaking for Ourselves draws together scholars and activists Aboriginal and non Aboriginal established and new who bring equity issues to the forefront by considering environmental justice in specifically Canadian cases and contexts and from a variety of perspectives and concerns including those of women and First Nations Raising Elijah Sandra Steingraber,2011-03-29 Nothing could be more important than the health of our children and no one is better suited to examine the threats against it than Sandra Steingraber Once called a poet with a knife she blends precise science with lyrical memoir In Living Downstream she spoke as a biologist and cancer survivor in Having Faith she spoke as an ecologist and expectant mother viewing her own body as a habitat Now she speaks as the scientist mother of two young children enjoying and celebrating their lives while searching for ways to protect them and all children from the toxic climate threatened world they inhabit Each chapter of this engaging and unique book focuses on one inevitable ingredient of childhood everything from pizza to laundry to homework to the Big Talk and explores the underlying social political and ecological forces behind it Through these everyday moments Steingraber demonstrates how closely the private intimate world of parenting connects to the public world of policy making and how the ongoing environmental crisis is fundamentally a crisis of family life Human and Ecological Risk Assessment Dennis J. Paustenbach,2024-04-15 Understand the fundamentals of human risk assessment with this introduction and reference Human risk assessments are a precondition for virtually all industrial action or environmental regulation all the more essential in a world where chemical and environmental hazards are becoming more abundant These documents catalog potential environmental toxicological ecological or other harms resulting from a particular hazard from chemical spills to construction projects to dangerous workplaces They turn on a number of variables of which the most significant is the degree of human exposure to the hazardous agent or process Human and Ecological Risk Assessment combines the virtues of a textbook and reference work to introduce and analyze these vital documents Beginning with the foundational theory of human health risk assessment it then supplies case studies and detailed analysis illustrating the practice of producing risk assessment documents Fully updated and authored by leading authorities in the field the result is an indispensable work Readers of the second edition of Human and Ecological Risk Assessment will also find Over 40 entirely new case studies reflecting the latest in risk assessment practice Detailed discussion of hazards including air emissions contaminated food and soil hazardous waste sites and many more Case studies from multiple countries to reflect diverse international standards Human and Ecological Risk Assessment is ideal for professionals and advanced graduate students in toxicology industrial hygiene occupational medicine environmental science and all related subjects Early Pregnancy Roy G. Farquharson,Mary D. Stephenson,2017-02-02 A scientific and evidence based guide to understanding early pregnancy development and clinical management Poisoned Profits Philip Shabecoff,Alice Shabecoff,2008-08-12 In this shocking and sobering book two fearless journalists directly and definitively link industrial toxins to the current rise in childhood disease and death In the tradition of Silent Spring Poisoned Profits is a landmark investigation an eye opening account of a country that prizes money over children s health With indisputable data Philip Shabecoff and Alice Shabecoff reveal that the children of baby boomers the first to be raised in a truly toxified world have higher rates of birth defects asthma cancer autism and other serious illnesses than previous generations In piercing case histories the authors identify the culprit as corporate pollution Here are the stories of such places as Dickson Tennessee where babies were born with cleft lips and palates after landfill chemicals seeped into the water and Port Neches Texas where so many graduates of a high school near synthetic rubber and chemical plants contracted cancer that the school was nicknamed Leukemia High The danger to our children isn t just in the outside world though The Shabecoffs provide evidence that our homes are now infested with everything from dangerous flame retardants in crib mattresses to harmful plastic softeners in teething rings to antibiotics and arsenic in chicken additives that are absorbed by growing and physically vulnerable kids as well as by pregnant women Compounding the problem are chemical corporations that sabotage investigations and regulations a government that refuses to police these companies and corporate hired scientists who keep pertinent secrets massaged with skewed data of their own Poisoned Profits also demonstrates how people are fighting back whether through grassroots parents groups putting pressure on politicians the rise of ecotheology in the pulpits of formerly indifferent churches or the new green chemistry being practiced in labs to replace bad elements with good The Shabecoffs also include helpful tips on reducing risks to children in how they eat and play and in how parents clean and maintain their homes Powerful unflinching and eminently readable Poisoned Profits is a wake up call that is bound to inspire talk and force change
