Health Defence:

Nationhood, Executive Power and the Australian Constitution Peta Stephenson, 2022-09-08 The first comprehensive study of the nature and scope of the nationhood power this book brings a fresh perspective to the scholarship on the powers of the executive branch in Australia The question of when the Federal Executive Government can act without the authorisation of the Parliament is contested and highly topical in Australia In recent judicial decisions Australian courts have suggested that statutory authorisation may not be required where the Federal Executive Government is exercising the nationhood power that is the implied executive power derived from the character and status of the Commonwealth as the national government The Federal Executive Government has relied on this power to implement controversial spending programs respond to national emergencies and exclude non citizens from Australia Together the chapters in this book analyse and evaluate judicial observations about the operation of the nationhood power in these different contexts and the limits which apply to it While the focus of this book is on the nationhood power it also addresses broader issues concerning the relationship between the legislative and executive branches in parliamentary systems of government This book makes an important contribution to the literature on executive power and will appeal to constitutional lawyers scholars and practitioners and those who are involved in the administration of government

Return to Growth Volume One Jon Moynihan, 2024-09-10 The UK has in recent years been suffering from what is nothing short of an economic crisis Growth has now completely stalled in those western democracies the UK included where high government spending and high taxes have steadily burgeoned decade after decade Free market economies now threaten to leave us behind in terms of wealth opportunity and standards of living At the end of Rishi Sunak's 2024 government expenditure was at 45 per cent of GDP and taxes were 36 per cent and rising yet still nowhere near sufficient to cover public expenditure The government's net annual borrowing is now a completely unsustainable 4.4 per cent of GDP with our overall national debt growing rapidly and alarmingly In this arresting and powerful manifesto for economic change Jon Moynihan analyses the UK's decades long stagnant economy and looks at what can be done to resuscitate it Combining rigorous research with unparalleled business experience he explores the key dynamics affecting economic growth ranging from government borrowing expenditure tax and regulation to the way national resources are deployed on non productive and futile growth stifling endeavours Ultimately Moynihan shows that unless we act now to reverse the decline by radically restructuring our economy to stimulate economic growth the UK risks stagnation financial collapse and a long term disintegration in our standard of living Ignore his warning at your peril

Broken Engagements Saskia Lettmaier, 2010-02-11 The common law action for breach of promise of marriage originated in the mid seventeenth century but it was not until the nineteenth century that it rose to prominence and became a regular feature in law courts and gossip columns By 1940 the action was defunct it was inconceivable for a respectable woman to bring such a case before the courts What accounts for this dramatic rise and fall This book ties the story of the action s prominence and decline between 1800 and 1940 to changes in the prevalent conception of woman her ideal role in society sexual relations and the family It argues that the idiosyncratic breach of promise suit and Victorian notions of ideal femininity were inextricably and fatally entwined It presents the nineteenth century breach of promise action as a codification of the Victorian ideal of true womanhood and explores the longer term implications of this infusion of mythologized femininity for the law in particular for the position of plaintiffs Surveying three consecutive time periods the early nineteenth century the high Victorian and the post Victorian periods and adopting an interdisciplinary approach that combines the perspectives of legal history social history and literary analysis it argues that the feminizing process by shaping a cause of action in accordance with an ideal at odds with the very notion of women going to law imported a fatal structural inconsistency that at first remained obscured but ultimately vulgarized and undid the cause of action Alongside more than two hundred and fifty real life breach of promise cases the book examines literary and cinematic renditions of the breach of promise theme by artists ranging from Charles Dickens to P G Wodehouse to expose the subtle yet unmistakable ways in which what happened and what changed in the breach of promise courtroom influenced the changing representation of the breach of promise plaintiff in nineteenth and early twentieth century literature and film

National Audit Office,2009 Government faces increasing pressure to do more with fewer financial resources and with challenges such as climate change and an ageing population will require innovation in public services Departments have started to implement some of the recommendations of the National Audit Office s 2006 report on innovation HC 1447 I session 2005 06 ISBN 9780102942330 but are still not maximising the opportunities to innovate The majority of cases of innovation originate with senior management within departments There is potential to encourage more innovation from front line staff and service users At the front line public servants can be reluctant to put forward ideas where they do not appreciate how innovation relates to the goals of the organisation and can resist change they feel is forced upon them Other barriers include risk averse attitudes within departments and a concentration on targets budgets and high profile national initiatives Departments should develop strategies for encouraging and developing innovation It is not possible to identify exactly how much central government spends on developing innovation but estimates by the NAO suggest that departments have allocated at least 3 billion in the form of innovation budgets and the Department for Innovation Universities and Skills announced a further 2 5 billion to be spent encouraging and supporting innovation from 2008 9 to 2010 11 There are no measures in place to assess the impact of this expenditure Government should make use of the survey work done by the NAO for this report and develop it further to determine how effective this expenditure is Manufacturing Government Communication on Covid-19 Philippe J.
