Pitts,2016-02-11 What was the relationship of ancient education to early Christianity This volume provides an in depth look at different approaches currently employed by scholars who draw upon educational settings in the ancient world to inform their historical research in Christian origins The book is divided into two sections one consisting of essays on education in the ancient world and one consisting of exegetical studies dealing with various passages where motifs emerging from ancient educational culture provide illumination The chapters summarize the state of the discussion on ancient education in classical and biblical studies examine obstacles to arriving at a comprehensive theory of early Christianity s relationship to ancient education compare different approaches and compile the diverse methodologies into one comparative study Several educational motifs are integrated in order to demonstrate the exegetical insights that they may yield when utilized in New Testament historical investigation and interpretation

The Biblical Tour of Hell Matthew Ryan Hauge,2013-08-15 It is difficult to underestimate the significance of the story of the Rich Man and Lazarus in Luke 16 19 31 within the biblical tradition Although hell occupies a prominent position in popular Christian rhetoric today it plays a relatively minor role in the Christian canon The most important biblical texts that explicitly describe the fate of the dead are in the Synoptic Gospels Yet among these passages only the Lukan tradition is intent on explicitly describing the abode of the dead it is the only biblical tour of hell Hauge examines the story of the Rich Man and Lazarus in Luke 16 19 31 uniquely the only parable that is set within a supernatural context The parables characteristically feature concrete realities of first century Mediterranean life but the majority of Luke 16 19 31 is narrated from the perspective of the tormented dead This volume demonstrates that the distinctive features of the story of the Rich Man and Lazarus are the result of a strategic imitation creative transformation and Christian transvaluation of the descent of Odysseus into the house of Hades in Odyssey Book 11 the literary model par excellence of postmortem revelation in antiquity

A Wandering Galilean: Essays in Honour of Seán Freyne Zuleika Rodgers, Margaret Daly-Denton, Anne Fitzpatrick-McKinley, 2009-10-26 Starting his career as a scholar of the New Testament Seán Freyne's work became synonymous with the study of Galilee in the Greek and Roman periods His search for a deeper and more nuanced understanding of Judaism in the Greek and Roman periods and the development of the early Christian movement has led him to interface with scholars in many related disciplines In order to do justice to the breadth of Seán Freyne's interests this volume includes contributions from scholars in the fields of Archaeology Ancient History Classics Hebrew Bible Early Judaism Rabbinic Judaism Early Christianity New Testament and Medieval Judaism The resulting volume demonstrates not only the honoree's interdisciplinary interests but also the interconnectedness of these disciplines John the Baptist and the Jewish Setting of Matthew Brian C. Dennert, 2015-09-11 Although recent discussions on Matthew have emphasized the document's setting within Judaism these studies have not analyzed how the Jewish figure of John the Baptist functions within this setting Brian Dennert steps into this gap arguing that Matthew presents Jesus to be the continuation and culmination of John's ministry in order to strengthen the claims of Matthew's group and to vilify the opponents of his group By doing this he encourages Jews yet to align with Matthew's group particularly those who esteem the Baptist and to gravitate away from its opponents The author examines texts roughly contemporaneous with Matthew which reveal respect given to John the Baptist at the time of Matthew's composition The examination of Matthew shows that the first Evangelist more closely connects the Baptist to Jesus while highlighting his rejection by Jewish authorities "The Poor, the Crippled, the Blind, and the Lame" Louise A. Gosbell, 2018-08-03 The New Testament gospels feature numerous social exchanges between Jesus and people with various physical and sensory disabilities Despite this traditional biblical scholarship has not seen these people as agents in their own right but existing only to highlight the actions of Jesus as a miracle worker In this study Louise A Gosbell uses disability as a lens through which to explore a number of these passages anew Using the cultural model of disability as the theoretical basis she explores the way that the gospel writers as with other writers of the ancient world used the language of disability as a means of understanding organising and interpreting the experiences of humanity Her investigation highlights the ways in which the gospel writers reinforce and reflect as well as subvert culturally driven constructions of disability in the ancient world An Annotated Guide to Biblical Resources for Ministry David R. clergy and others with backgrounds in contemporary theology and biblical study Narrative Hermeneutics, History, and Rhetoric, 2024-12-23 David P Moessner has pioneered the study of early Christian narrative both through the investigation of the principles and methods of good storytelling outlined by ancient authors and through the demonstration that Christians especially the author of Luke Acts used these principles and methods in crafting their own stories The contributors to this volume recognize Moessner's enormously valuable research and warm collegiality with twenty one essays on narrative hermeneutics characterization genre intertextuality and reception history Several focus fittingly on Luke and Acts while others press the implications of Moessner's work for comprehension of the wider world of Jewish Christian and Greco Roman storytelling New Testament Theology and the Greek Language Stanley E. Porter, 2022-10-20 Offers a unique language based critique of New Testament theology and reconceptualizes it using categories of modern linguistics

Reading the New Testament in the Manifold Contexts of a Globalized World Eve-Marie Becker, Jens Herzer, Angela Standhartinger, Florian Wilk, 2022-12-12 This volume gathers the perspectives of teachers in higher education from all over the world on the topic of New Testament scholarship The goal is to understand and describe the contexts and conditions under which New Testament research is carried out throughout the world This endeavor should serve as a catalyst for new initiatives and the development of questions that determine the future directions of New Testament scholarship At the same time it is intended to raise awareness of the global dimensions of New Testament scholarship especially in relation to its impact on socio political debates The occasion for these reflections are not least the present questions that have been posed with the corona pandemic and have received a focus on the system relevance of churches which is openly questioned by the media The church and theology must face this challenge Towards that end it is important to gather impulses and suggestions for the discipline from a variety of contexts in which different dimensions of context related New Testament research come to the fore The Luke Commentary Collection Darrell L. Rhetorics in the New Millennium James D. Hester, 2010-06-10 Some of the most renowned modern practitioners of New Testament rhetorical criticism including Elisabeth Schussler Fiorenza Wilhelm Wuellner and the editors themselves provide new rhetorical readings of New Testament texts Organized into three distinct sections Rhetorics in the New Millennium provides a cutting edge approach to this thorny issue in biblical studies The first section is a collection of three essays that are primarily theoretical in nature and concerned with examining general theories of rhetoric The second section is a series of specific studies each using a different accepted theoretical model to analyze a given text The final section presents valuable appendices which summarize information about the content of certain theoretical models of criticism

Finally a bibliography listing a wide variety of rhetorical critical studies and reference works is included Life of Christ Robert Geis, 2013-03-08 Life of Christ bridges the gap between commentaries and devotional accounts of Christ's ministry Applying the requisite analytical tools it addresses the question is His life worth studying The Resurrection event would confirm it is as would the Gospel miracle accounts neither of which Geis argues skeptical response disproves Salvation history necessitates the reality of Mary's virginity which the author develops lexically and theologically Jesus teachings and parables bring out a Christ Whose moral precepts are rooted in His Divinity and not in western philosophic nostrums Geis discussion of Christ on marriage and His commandment of love sharpens this observation with lexical application He also addresses the inconsistent objectives and circular reasoning of various exegetical schools which have no place in a study of the Gospels
