Ethics of Catholicism and the Consecration of the Intellectual Andre J. Bélanger, 1997-01-06 Using France as the most representative case of a Catholic context B langer argues that as French society became more secularized intellectuals replaced the clergy as arbitrators of justice and enlightenment Catholic morality was consolidated by the scholastic tradition and confirmed by the Counter Reformation providing the foundation that allowed the establishment of a lay elite B langer describes the progressive takeover of positions of influence by the new elite in Catholic society and examines arguments used by thinkers from the seventeenth to the twentieth century to legitimize their positions In contrast the Anglo Saxon Protestant tradition due to its emphasis on the priesthood of all believers led to recognition of the individual's conscience as the sole judge of her or his deeds and failed to provide intellectuals with the basis for any claim to serve as moral leaders in political affairs Straddling a variety of disciplines this study will be interest to students of political science sociology philosophy and history experimentation with lesbian advocacy serves as a beginning rather than an end point of analysis With that in mind Mennel provides an essential overview of the filmmaker's oeuvre while highlighting the defining characteristics of her artistic and political signature She also situates Friedrich within the cultural political and historical contexts that both shape the films and are shaped by them Finally Mennel expands our notion of auteurism to include directors who engage in collaborative and creative processes rooted in communities

Race and Crisis Suman Gupta, Satnam Virdee, 2020-05-21 As the European Union seemingly teetered from a financial crisis to an immigration crisis around 2015 and onwards discourses of race appeared to congeal in various member states In some instances these came with familiarly essentialist constructions in others these were refracted cautiously through concerns about security national and cultural integrity distribution of public resources and employment and so on New political alignments surfaced on the back of such concerns and established organizations changed their agendas accordingly The border regimes of EU member states became increasingly fraught both in terms of their everyday operations and in terms of the close attention and vociferous debates they attracted In most instances the internal and external borders of the EU hardened and with increasing frequency the cohesion of the transnational union seemed on the verge of fracturing Indeed very real fissures opened up with secessionist moves and referendums Through each step in this juncture of upheavals the significance of race has been reiterated in tangential ways and sometimes with unabashed straightforwardness This volume explores this juncture around 2015 and the constructions of race and of crisis therein for specific contexts and from a range of disciplinary perspectives The introduction gives an overview of the juncture focusing on the rise of Eurosceptic nationalist political parties and their electoral success Subsequent chapters are addressed to the management and representation of immigrants crossing the Mediterranean border regimes in the Czech Republic the narratives that converged on Brexit riots in England antagonistic popular movements in Sweden racialization in crisis management in Italy perceptions of migrants in Greece and how race may be structured in and challenged through classroom pedagogy This book was originally published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies
