Signs of SCA

- ▶ Unconscious
- ▶ Not breathing
- ▶ No circulation (no pulse)

If victim is unresponsive, activate the chain of survival; a series of steps and procedures, which together could save the life of a sudden cardiac arrest (SCA) victim.

1

Call for help

Stay with the victim; send someone to CALL 911 and return with the AED.

2

Start CPR

Begin CPR immediately to circulate oxygenated blood to the brain and body. As soon as the AED arrives, use it.

3

Early Defibrillation

1. Turn on AED
2. Follow audible instructions
3. Press the shock button, if advised.

4

Advanced Care

Have someone direct the paramedics to the scene and update them on the status of the victim.

Act Fast!

Acting quickly is the key to increasing the chance of survival for someone who has had a sudden cardiac arrest (SCA). An AED can be used to deliver a shock to the heart that can restart it. The sooner you use an AED, the better the chance of survival. In fact, for every minute that passes without CPR, the chance of survival drops by 10 percent.

Importance of CPR

When someone has a sudden cardiac arrest (SCA), they stop breathing and their heart stops beating. CPR can help to keep the blood flowing to the brain and other organs. CPR can also help to keep the heart and lungs going. The sooner you start CPR, the better the chance of survival. In fact, for every minute that passes without CPR, the chance of survival drops by 10 percent.

AEDs Are Safe
