Dillard,2021-11-16 An exploration of how engaging identity and cultural heritage can transform teaching and learning for Black women educators in the name of justice and freedom in the classroom In The Spirit of Our Work Dr Cynthia Dillard centers the spiritual lives of Black women educators and their students arguing that spirituality has guided Black people throughout the diaspora She demonstrates how Black women teachers and teacher educators can heal resist and re member their identities in ways that are empowering for them and their students Dillard emphasizes that any discussion of Black teachers lives and work cannot be limited to truncated identities as enslaved persons in the Americas The Spirit of Our Work addresses questions that remain largely invisible in what is known about teaching and teacher education According to Dillard this invisibility renders the powerful approaches to Black education that are embodied and marshaled by Black women teachers unknown and largely unavailable to inform policy practice and theory in education The Spirit of Our Work highlights how the intersectional identities of Black women teachers matter in teaching and learning and how educational settings might more carefully and conscientiously curate structures of support that pay explicit and necessary attention to spirituality as a crucial consideration

Saving the Leader Within Doreen Cato,2011-12-19 Doreen Cato told me she was exploring the role of childhood trauma on leadership and shared the story about her grandmother who in 1932 was cruelly institutionalized for 32 years Her grandmother was sane when committed simply for imitating a man to work in a factory to feed her five children I knew it was trust allowing me to see beneath the surface of a very introspective and brave person Reading Dr Cato's manuscript as she prepared it for publication was in some ways a great relief In presenting one painful episode after another it was heartbreaking but it was also genuine insightful hopeful and inspiring because it made clear how healing paths can be found in the midst of great suffering and despair Leaders and survivors of childhood trauma will come to understand appreciate and rely on strengths nurturing their capacity for hope and strength in others This is a very helpful perspective on both trauma and leadership and it is something that Dr Cato understands very well Nancy E Gill Ph D Author of Helping Kids Hope A Teacher Explores the Need for Meaning In Our Schools and In Our Lives and Shine In Your Own Way Inspiration for Parents of Failing Kids The Publishers Weekly ,1998 □□□□ ,2015-07-12 2005 4
