Heart To Heart Expressive Singing In England 1780 183

James Augustus Henry Murray

Heart To Heart Expressive Singing In England 1780 183:

Heart to Heart Robert Toft, 2000 This book establishes the principles of interpretation that singers active in England both foreign and English applied to recitatives arias and songs by composers such as Handel Mozart and Rossini Expression lay at the heart of persuasive singing during the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries and Robert Toft here ably places the concept and its practices in a broad cultural perspective Singing was related closely to speaking in this period when the techniques of delivery that were common to both arts emphasis accent tone of voice pauses breathing and gesture are combined with resources peculiar to singing portamento messa di voce tempo rubato vibrato and ornamentation the style which emerges differs markedly from that of the late twentieth century Most singers today perform the repertoire of the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries but until now no book has addressed the principles which governed song performance in this period or shown how historical understandings may be used to move and delight modern audiences
