Bibler, 2009-02-10 Finally breaking through heterosexual clichés of flirtatious belles and cavaliers sinister black rapists and lusty Jezebels Cotton's Queer Relations exposes the queer dynamics embedded in myths of the southern plantation Focusing on works by Ernest J Gaines William Faulkner Tennessee Williams Lillian Hellman Katherine Anne Porter Margaret Walker William Styron and Arna Bontemps Michael P Bibler shows how each one uses figures of same sex intimacy to suggest a more progressive alternative to the pervasive inequalities tied historically and symbolically to the South's most iconic institution Bibler looks specifically at relationships between white men of the planter class between plantation mistresses and black maids and between black men arguing that while the texts portray the plantation as a rigid hierarchy of differences these queer relations privilege a notion of sexual sameness that joins the individuals as equals in a system where equality is rare indeed Bibler reveals how these models of queer egalitarianism attempt to reconcile the plantation's regional legacies with national debates about equality and democracy particularly during the eras of the New Deal World War II and the civil rights movement Cotton's Queer Relations charts bold new territory in southern studies and queer studies alike bringing together history and cultural theory to offer innovative readings of classic southern texts A book in the American Literatures Initiative ALI a collaborative publishing project supported by The Andrew W Mellon Foundation For more information please visit www.americanliteratures.org      The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells, 1992      A Dash of Disguise Jacki Delecki, 2022-07-14 She will never be broken again Lady Perdita Tinley Dita to her loved ones was raised to be the perfect aristocratic wife Daughter of an earl she had the best of everything But when the love of her life rejects her her ideal life collapses around her Betrayed and abandoned Dita swears off marriage Still her passionate spirit won't accept the quiet spinster life Determined to help her beloved brother a key player in the fight against Napoleon Dita transforms into the perfect spy Beneath her elegant petticoats hides the mind of a general He's desperate to resist her Dashiell West Earl of Beldon isn't the marrying kind Crushed by his father's death Dash turned his back on the ton His life is a long blurry series of gaming hells debauchery and dissipation But the life of a heartless rake may just be his last chance at salvation When Dita's brother once Dash's best friend is taken hostage by the French Dash's seedy contacts are the only clue that can help save him It just means being near the woman he cannot forget As Dash and Dita put their lives at risk the stakes climb higher Can they set their tortured past aside long enough to save the realm Or will their dark history make them lose their lives along with their shattered hearts Coming in July Jacki Delecki's passionate suspenseful Regency world of A Lady's School for Spies where daring ladies follow their path to happily ever after amidst the dangerous undercover fight against Napoleon
