Downing, 2000-07-14 Explores the philosophical context within which psychotherapy functions Studies on Humanistic Buddhism III: Glocalization of Buddhism, 2020-09-01
Studies on Humanistic Buddhism III Glocalization of Buddhism contains articles on the glocalization of Buddhism Glocalization here refers to the spread of Buddhism globally as it situates itself locally Buddhism has spread across the world

Concomitant with Buddhism's globalization is its localization. As Buddhists settle into new environments there is an acculturation process. Those who bring Buddhist teachings to a new area must adapt to the local society in order to come up with skillful means to impart Buddhist teachings in a manner that is appropriate to the dominant culture and that empowers locals to carry on the teachings themselves.

Hooked! Stephanie Kaza, 2005-02-08 At one time or another most of us have experienced an all-consuming desire for a material object, a desire so strong that it seems like we couldn't possibly be happy without buying this thing. Yet when we give in to this impulse we often find ourselves feeling frustrated and empty. Advertisers of course aim to hook us in this way and from a global perspective our tendency to get hooked fuels the rampant overconsumption that is having a devastating impact on the world's stability and on the environment. According to the contributors to this unique anthology Buddhism can shed valuable light on our compulsions to consume. Craving and attachment, how they arise and how to free ourselves of them are central themes of Buddhist thought. The writings in this volume, most of which have never been previously published, offer fresh perspectives and much-needed correctives to our society's tendency to believe that having more will make us happier. Hooked! includes a range of writings on how to apply Buddhist thought and ethics to understand and combat the problem of overconsumption as individuals and collectively. Contributors include popular Western teachers, Asian masters, scholars, and practitioners such as Pema Chodron on what is actually happening at the moment we're hooked and how to get beyond that; Joseph Goldstein on how mindfulness training can help us stop wanting to want; Bhikshuni Thubten Chodron on how consumer mentality influences spiritual practice; Judith Simmer Brown on how cultivating spiritually based activism and compassionate action can help us address the negative effects of consumerism; Rita Gross on how understanding moderation can curb overconsumption; Santikaro Bhikkhu on practicing generosity in a consumer world.

Cross-Cultural Performance Management Mahmoud Moussa, Thomas Doumani, Adela McMurray, Nuttawuth Muenjohn, Ling Deng, 2022-02-10 The book's foundations informing its content are anchored to evidence-based primary data which was collected in the Thailand context utilising interview and case study techniques. The data has been internationally scrutinized by our peers to validate its truthfulness and integrity. In this way our book sheds reliable and valid new understandings on the complex relationship between performance management and the effects of culture. The book transcends beyond conceptual discussions as it is anchored to evidence-based data to inform the direct or obvious cultural value differences, exploring the very concept of efficacy and how culture impacts on the way in which we perceive what constitutes the pursuit of efficacious outcomes in managing employees. Therefore this novel research design offers integrated insights from practitioners and academics in the field of management within organisations from various Thai industry contexts.
