Heat 3 I Have Never Worn Sunglasses:

I Have Never Worn Sunglasses Ivor Indyk, 2002 Fear and Loathing Worldwide Robert Alexander, Christine Isager, 2018-07-26

For more than 40 years the radically subjective style of participatory journalism known as Gonzo has been inextricably associated with the American writer Hunter S Thompson. Around the world however other journalists approach unconventional material in risky ways placing themselves in the middle of off beat stories and relate those accounts in the supercharged rhetoric of Gonzo. In some cases Thompson's influence is apparent even explicit in others writers have crafted their journalistic provocations independently only later to have that work labelled Gonzo. In either case Gonzo journalism has clearly become an international phenomenon. In Fear and Loathing Worldwide scholars from fourteen countries discuss writers from Europe, the Americas, Africa and Australia whose work bears unmistakable traces of the mutant Gonzo gene. In each chapter Gonzo emerges as a powerful but unstable signifier read and practiced with different accents and emphases in the various national cultural, political and journalistic contexts in which it has erupted. Whether immersed in the Dutch crack scene, exploring the Polish version of Route 66, following the trail of the 2014 South African General Election or committing unspeakable acts on the bus to Turku, the writers described in this volume are driven by the same fearless disdain for convention and profound commitment to rattling received opinion with which the outlaw journalist Thompson scorched his way into the American consciousness in the 1960s, 70s and beyond.
