Empowering Patients and Supporting Patient-Centered Care: A Spotlight on Health Behavior Change Christos D. Lionis, Marilena Anastasaki, Sophia Papadakis, Ana M. Carriazo, 2024-09-12 The COVID 19 pandemic has had a major impact on both mental and physical health with documented and ongoing effects on the health status of populations globally One of the key drivers of these trends is the increase in risk factors and unhealthy behaviors in the population eg obesity smoking alcohol consumption and poor adherence to health screening vaccination or other preventative interventions This has increased the importance of actions toward disease prevention with a focus on health behavior change It is recognized that such intervention approaches should be grounded in the principles of person centered approaches and include patient empowerment and compassionated care provision with the aim to facilitate the complex interactions between mental and physical health and effective communication between healthcare professionals and patients Sharing international learning and best practices for promoting health behavior change using empowerment oriented approaches is key to supporting the rapid scale up of effective intervention strategies and will inform research and policy This Research Topic will focus on best and promising practices of empowerment oriented strategies for supporting health behavior change This collection of multidisciplinary articles original research reviews systematic reviews and opinions will examine methodologies that address individuals populations as well as healthcare professionals that aim to reduce the risk of disease promote healthy behaviors or enhance adherence to healthcare interventions
