Health For All By The Year 2000 The Finnish National Strategy:

HEALTH FOR ALL BY THE YEAR 2000: THE FINNISH NATIONAL STRATEGY. FINLAND. MINISTRY OF SOCIAL AFFAIRS AND HEALTH.,1987 Health for All by the Year 2000 Finland. Sosiaali- ja terveystieteiden ministeriö,1987 The

Health for All Policy Framework for the WHO European Region World Health Organization. Regional Office for Europe,2006-01-10 This book is the third update of the Health for All policy framework for the WHO European Region adopted in September 2005 This concluded two years of work integrating the new knowledge accumulated since the previous update in 1998 and incorporating the results from broad consultations with countries and key partner agencies This 2005 update develops the concept of ethical values based governance It also offers policy makers the potential to put values into practice and action A set of concrete tools is proposed that can be used to check national health policies or national health systems for their respect for certain rights and values The update calls for an open ended Health for All process a forum for exchanging experiences examples and case studies of national Health for All activities that countries themselves choose to carry out In this regard the 2005 update may be used as a tool for promoting the ethical development of national health policies in a way that is pragmatic and useful ensuring the continuous evolution of Health for All in the European Region

Nordic Health Care Systems: Recent Reforms And Current Policy Challenges Magnussen, Jon,Vrangbaek, Karsten,Saltman, Richard,2009-09-01 Examines patterns of health reform in Nordic health care systems and the balance between stability and change in how these systems have developed This book investigates the health systems in Norway Denmark Sweden and Finland through comparisons along a variety of policy driven parameters National Library of Medicine Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.),1989 Public Health Policies in the European Union Walter Holland,Elias Mossialos,Bernard Merkel,2018-10-26 First published in 1999 this volume recognises that the role and status of public health in Europe has again become increasingly recognized and features contributions on various nations within the European Community This is not only in individual countries but also in the policies of the European Union as exemplified in the Maastricht and Amsterdam Treaties This book is a critical account of the present structures and policies of member countries and how policies have evolved within the European Commission It describes both possible models and needs and contrasts these with the current legislative framework It thus serves the needs of both practitioners policy makers policy analysts and students interested in public health and social policy developments EBOOK: Critical Challenges For Health Care Reform In Europe Richard B. Saltman,Josep Figueras,Constantino Sakellarides,1998-10-16 This volume explores the central issues driving the present process of healthcare reform in Europe 17 chapters written by scholars and policy makers from all parts of Europe draw together the available evidence from epidemiology and public health economics public policy organizational behaviour and management theory as well as real world policy making experience laying out the options that health sector decision makers confront Through its cross disciplinary cross national approach the book highlights the underlying trends that now influence health policy formulation across Europe An authoritative introduction provides a broad synthesis of present trends and strategies in European health policy Occupational Health in National Development J. Jeyaratnam,K. S. Chia,1994 In the process of nation building the health of the working population becomes a key factor With the introduction of new technologies foreign labour and changes in working patterns the health of the working population will be affected Health care workers administrators and politicians will be confronted with these occupational health issues This book outlines the various occupational health issues in national development and proposes a system of planning for the health services for the working population It is the result of a two week ICOH Seminar where international experts addressed the issue of developing occupational health services for various countries Health for All in Europe H. J. Van Oyen,1990 Current Catalog National Library of Medicine (U.S.), First multi year cumulation covers six years 1965 70 Routledge Library Editions: Psychiatry Various,2021-07-28 Psychiatry is a medical field concerned with the diagnosis treatment and prevention of mental health conditions Routledge Library Editions Psychiatry 24 Volume set brings together titles originally published between 1958 and 1997 The set demonstrates the varied nature of mental health and how we as a society deal with it Covering a number of areas including child and adolescent psychiatry alternatives to psychiatry the history of mental health and psychiatric epidemiology Health for All Policy in Finland ,1991 Gaining Health Anne Wood-Ritsataki,Péter Makara,2009 Noncommunicable diseases pose the greatest threat to the health of the people in the WHO European Region yet this is an area where the greatest health gains are available at relatively modest cost This book gives detailed insight into policy development in eight European countries over several decades to address the challenge of noncommunicable diseases and draws out the main themes to assist policy makers in formulating their own responses While originally developed to support countries in implementing the WHO European Strategy for the Prevention and Control of Noncommunicable Diseases the insights are likely to be of benefit to a much wider audience Food In Global History Raymond Grew,2018-02-19 Social scientists study food in many different ways Historians have most often studied the history of specific foods anthropologists have emphasized the role of food in religious rituals and group identities sociologists have looked primarily at food as an indicator of social class and a factor in social ties and nutritionists have focused on changing patterns of consumption and applied medical knowledge to study the effects of diet on public health Other scholars have studied the economic and political connections surrounding commerce in food Here these perspectives are brought together in a single volume Mental Health Atlas 2005 World Health Organization. Department of Mental Health and Substance Abuse,World Health Organization. Mental Health Evidence and Research Team,2005 This atlas is aimed at collecting compiling and disseminating information on mental health resources in the world It presents updated and expanded information from 192 countries with analyses of global and regional trends as well as individual country profiles Newly included in this volume is a section on epidemiology within the profiles of all low and middle income countries It shows that mental health resources within most countries remain inadequate despite modest improvements since 2001 Availability of mental health resources across countries and between regions remains substantially uneven with many countries having few resources The atlas reinforces the urgent need to enhance mental health resources within countries

Primary Health Care and Psychiatric Epidemiology Brian Cooper, Robin Eastwood, 2018-09-24 In the years prior to publication primary health care had been gaining in significance as a setting both for research on mental illness in the general population and for the development of new preventive approaches in this field The growing need for research had received impetus from the escalating costs of hospital based health care the restructuring of health services in a number of countries with an increased emphasis on community care and prevention and the World Health Organization's Health for All campaign in response to which a growing number of national planning documents had been published These developments had already stimulated a new interest in the scope for epidemiological and evaluative investigations based on general medical practice This book originally published in 1992 consists of selected contributions to the first international scientific meeting on this topic held in Toronto in 1989 It is made up of five sections dealing respectively with the growth and development of a new research field findings of psychiatric surveys in general practice in a number of different countries specialist and generalist medical care for mental illness issues of selection and referral and specialist aspects of late life mental disorders encountered in such research The inclusion of reports from groups of workers in the USA the UK the Netherlands Germany Spain Italy Finland Canada Australia and other countries testifies to the rapid spread of interest in these questions With the exception of the first two chapters which sketch the background of public health and general practice epidemiology all the contributions are focused on general practice as a field laboratory for study of the occurrence distribution diagnostic composition and risk factors of psychiatric illness in unselected populations and present data largely unpublished from the authors own projects These findings confirm the importance of research in general practice as a major growing point of social psychiatry and provide guidelines for further progress in the years ahead This book will still be an invaluable source of reference to all psychiatrists psychologists general practitioners and health care professionals concerned with mental disorders in the wider community
