Health Services Arthur Levin, 1977

Commissioning and a Population Approach to Health Services

Decision-Making Julie Sin, 2020 There has been increasing emphasis on actively taking a population approach to the commissioning of health services in England In the field of healthcare commissioning the process of planning and security health services for populations the challenge lies in how best to address health needs and improve population outcomes with the resources available Decisions often take place in a context of incomplete information and timescale constraints as well as finite financial personnel and material resources It can also be difficult to know how to turn good ideas into practice This book offers a contribution as to how this might be done Based on over two decades of experience in health services commissioning the author brings together the key tools and guidelines into one place Part I explains the core concepts of a population approach to health services decision making Part II goes on to look at real life relevance exploring applied topics that the reader might have to navigate in practice Chapters are clear and succinct written with the busy practitioner in mind A highly practical all in one guide this will be a valuable resource for those working in health services commissioning at all levels public health professionals students and trainees or anyone looking to learn about the process of commissioning for health services Book jacket

Mental Health Services Today and Tomorrow: Perspective on policy and practice

Charles Kaye, Michael Howlett, 2008 This work traces and anticipates past present and future changes in mental health services to assess the impact both of developments in care and of the implications of new organisational change It includes contributions and perspectives of those involved in services at all levels including service users to draw upon their experience to give a fuller picture of today and help sketch in tomorrow It balances academic scrutiny with personal involvement to reflect both national trends and local initiatives Overall this work is in two volumes each of which can stand alone the companion book Part 1 focuses on the realities of offering and receiving care at a practical and local level this Part 2 reviews policy and practice from national and international perspectives Together these books provide essential information and views on mental health services for professionals throughout health and social care managers policy planners and policy shapers including those in the third sector and patient groups academics and the media

Perspectives and Opinions in Health Services Andrea Cioffi, Farshid Alaeddini, Marlena Robakowska, Daniel Ślęzak, Prestige Tatenda Makanga, Przemysław Żuratyński, Abdullah Reda, 2024-10-16 This Research Topic includes high quality Perspective articles and Opinion articles published in Frontiers in Health Services in 2022 The mission of the journal is to ultimately contribute to helping health systems improve both experiences and outcomes of patients and make health systems more efficient Perspective articles aim to present a viewpoint on a specific area within Health Services The articles in this collection may discuss current advances and future directions and clearly present the author's perspective Perspective articles should also provide an accurate presentation and citations of other authors work and may include original data as
