

A romantic scene of a couple embracing on a pier or dock. The man is seen from behind, wearing a dark t-shirt, and the woman is leaning into him. They are silhouetted against a warm, golden sunset sky. In the background, a body of water reflects the light, and a city skyline with various buildings is visible across the water. The overall mood is intimate and serene.

There's a part of me
that's going to be in love with you for the rest of my life.

The Heart and its Attitudes Stephen Darwall,2024-04-30 Philosophers don t often write about the heart At least analytical philosophers don t Why is this Philosophers are said to live life in their heads rather than from their hearts But even if that is so why don t they think and write about the heart Moreover it can hardly have escaped philosophers attention that matters of the heart are central to what we human beings value most about our lives including our lives with animals Philosophers write a lot about friendship and love but they tend to do so in terms that leave out heartfelt connection They speak rather of commitment to one another and each other s well being or taking each other as ends or sharing deliberative standpoints or living life together or a whole host of other topics and much less about mutual emotional vulnerability and sharing and being in one another's hearts Surely one explanation of philosophers' reticence is that talk of the heart seems unavoidably metaphorical. It turns out to be easy enough, however, to cash the metaphor in if we simply take heart to refer to a cluster of emotional susceptibilities that have an essentially reciprocating structure. The heart aims at heartfelt connection at shared experience of joys and sorrows, hopes and fears and other personal emotions. We seek naturally to share these feelings with others and must suppress our natural tendencies if we wish to avoid doing so. Our heart's wish is to be open to other hearts in the hope that they will be open to ours and thereby us in return. This book is a systematic treatment, perhaps the first, of attitudes of the heart: remorse versus guilt, love, trust, gratitude, personal anger versus righteous anger, jealousy and others, and their role in mediating personal relationship, attachment and connection. This is obviously interesting in its own right but it also shows how heartfelt attitudes mirror more extensively studied reactive attitudes of guilt, resentment and blame. Attitudes of the will. Whereas the latter mediate moral relations of mutual respect and accountability, attitudes of the heart are the currency of heartfelt connection and personal relationship.

Simple Sayings and Thoughts for the Mind, Heart and Soul Joe Cervantes, 2016-06-08. Wisdom, knowledge and understanding are similar to finding a treasure chest full of diamonds and nuggets of gold. How can anyone not take advantage of such an abundance of wealth? In the midst of so much confusion, one needs to take the time to believe that there is wealth in the word of God and from his people to overcome such daily adversaries. We are challenged in our everyday lives but may you take that first step of faith: living for God and in helping others with love where there is failure. I know many books have been written with different opinions and advice by different writers about God and life. As the author of this book, I've tried to give some simple wisdom and understanding in so many areas of our lives, making it simple to understand and of course with some sense of humor. As one who goes alone through the maze of life, sometimes it requires us to learn quickly in order to find the key to the cross. So where advice isn't available, we are tempted to get off course and learn the hard way, which gets more complicated if we become stubborn. Just like the whole armor of God protects every part of our spiritual and physical bodies, taking some good advice and motivation will help us progress as a child of God. For those who love to make things possible by taking advice, may this book help you to change your route and save you time. There are over six thousand thoughts of my personal sayings which can be used as a text starter for a sermon or a conversation piece for inspiration. Please enjoy them; you've struck it rich with some great wisdom. Joe Cervantes.
