George Eliot Her Mind Her Heart:

Fictional Minds and Interpersonal Relationships in George Eliot's The Mill on the Floss Karam Nayeypour, 2018-10-01

George Eliot 1819 1880 is known for her psychoanalysis of the majority of her characters in her literary works In her second novel The Mill on the Floss 1860 she focuses on the fictional minds subjective first thoughts and intentions She shows how their unsympathetic workings cause private and collective tragedy by the end of narrative The novel has frequently been acclaimed by critics and readers alike However this book presents a re evaluation of the text with the help of terminologies borrowed from cognitive narratology in order to shed new light on the significance of one track minds in this narrative The book explores the mental functioning of the individual fictional minds and examines how different modes of mental activities influence the interpersonal relationships between and among the characters Accordingly the study argues that the main cause of tragedy in The Mill on the Floss stems from at least two factors First the central fictional minds primarily function on the basis of their self centered thoughts and emotions over which they usually do not have control Second the tragedy is an effect of the social minds or public opinion s unforgetting unforgiving and unsympathetic perspectives of any unconventional behavior
