writing George MacKay Brown Alison Gray,2016-03-09 George Mackay Brown the poet novelist and dramatist is seen by some as not just Orkney's but Britain's best twentieth century poet widely praised by Ted Hughes Seamus Heaney and fellow Orcadian mentor Edwin Muir Many of his works are concerned with protecting Orkney's cultural heritage from the relentless march of progress and the loss of myth and archaic ritual in the modern world a concern further influenced by his own conversion to Catholicism Alison Gray has written No Separation first and foremost as a faith story opening up the Catholicism of George Mackay Brown that hitherto has remained quiet unexplored and not greatly understood Not a Catholic or religious writer as such but treating all the subjects of literature as a Catholic would treat them and only could treat them She places Mackay Brown's writings within an Orkney poetics a shared Orcadian patrimony that is in touch with its own great past whilst simultaneously being deeply connected to the currents of theology and modern intellectual life in the twentieth century and beyond The Contribution to Literature of Orcadian Writer George MacKay Brown Osamu Yamada,Hilda D. Spear,David S. Robb,1991 This introduction presents George Mackay Brown in his Orkney setting and tells the reader about the Orkney Islands as well as about Brown himself The work however is principally a reference book offering a full bibliography of all Brown's works up to the moment of press as well as a secondary bibliography of works about him 'Keeping the Sources Pure' Sabine Schmid,2003 This volume assesses the literary stature of George Mackay Brown by contextualising his prose and his poetry within twentieth century British and European literary practices and traditions of thought Challenging the typecasting of Brown as Orkney writer the book links him with European Modernism and reveals the complex web of experiences influences and relationships that shaped Brown's poetic development This comparative study argues that Edwin Muir Gerard Manley Hopkins and Thomas Mann analysed remarkably similar cultural and spiritual phenomena inspiring Brown's own work Muir travelled back into what he called the racial memory of the tribe Hopkins aimed for a revival of religious values and the recovery of the sacramental power of the word Thomas Mann felt that man must discover and put into practice a new humanism which would embrace the mythic archetypal structure of the unconscious and man's individual consciousness All four writers attempted to get back to the roots and sources by probing the ways in which individuals and society as a whole gain a better understanding of and a more meaningful relationship with their pasts This book chronicles George Mackay Brown's personal and artistic journey from his early reporting days on an Orkney newspaper through spells in hospital recovering from tuberculosis to his friendship with Edwin Muir and growing confidence in his own vision Interrogation of Silence Rowena Murray,Brian Murray,2008 Charting the development of Brown's ideas and style this book offers a study of the poet and writer's work taken as a whole Including comparative studies of his key works the authors describe and analyse his works and reflect on his enduring concern to achieve perfection of form and expression Travellers George Mackay Brown,2014-03-27 These unknown and sometimes unexpected poems by the Orcadian master have all his characteristic simplicity and power In these poems readers will find new ideas previously unexplored but they will also find those qualities that made George Mackay Brown different from anyone else
