Gerald Durrell The Authorized Biography:

Gerald Durrell Douglas Botting, 1999 Biography of the world famous naturalist popular author zookeeper who wrote in all some 37 books He paved the way in print for the popular presentation of the natural world on television presented 12 series himself the early ones of his own expeditions The Natural History of the Rich: A Field Guide Richard Conniff, 2003-10-17 A tantalizing droll study of the idiosyncratic existence of the very rich through the unexpected lens of the naturalist Journalist Richard Conniff probes the age old question Are the rich different from you and me and finds that they are indeed a completely different animal He observes with great humor this socially unique species revealing their strategies for ensuring dominance and submission their flourishes of display behavior the intricate dynamics of their pecking order as well as their unorthodox mating practices Through comparisons to other equally exotic animals Conniff uncovers surprising commonalities Autobiography of a Naturalist and Environmentalist R. B. Eltringham, S. K. Eltringham, 2012-04-17 This book is an autobiography based on Keith's memoirs which he wrote shortly before he died in 2006 not for publication but for his descendants who might be interested in how he spent his life He didn't think there would be wide interest but this was far from true and in fact he wrote a most interesting story of his life especially in Africa where he lived with his family for several years Keith was born in 1929 in rural Canada on the prairies of Alberta He was always passionate about animals and wanted nothing else than a life involving animals and this was something that he achieved He went to school in Bristol and was educated at Southampton University and Cambridge where he taught for several years He had a wide knowledge of the animal world and was very knowledgeable about every animal that he met He acquired an encyclopedic knowledge of the animal world and he wanted nothing more than to learn all he could about animals and to this end as a youngster he established a so called zoo in the garden Our mother was not too happy when he introduced ants to what he called Ant Island which was an upturned dust bin lid Convergences Dr. Nabil M. Abdel-Al, 2017-05-25 This anthology is an amalgam of the author's output in the domains of interpretation translation and literary scholarship It is a serious attempt to highlight the cardinal traits common to said fields This research is a vested trek into the inner workings of the author's profession interpretation and translation as well as his standing engagement with literary genres throughout the ages The book's uniqueness resides in treating a diversity of matters interrelated in various ways although on the surface it appears to make up a queer admixture of dissimilar elements hence the title Convergences Interpretation and translation are twin vocations and between them convergence is all encompassing Both transform a message from a source to a target language Complementary and mutually supportive as they are yet there is a train of difference in the execution of these two inseparable professions the method nature and techniques involved in each Interpretation is the instantaneous the simultaneous in a word the express mode of communication and translation is the meditative the slow or the local medium of correspondence Concomitantly literature is the crucible for teleologically permeable convergences and incredible divergences It has a noble ontological message and brings out humanity's hidden treasures, experiences, thoughts, and choices. Literature's lofty mission is grounded in understanding the scenes, events, and characters it depicts, excerpts of which feed into discourses to be interpreted and translated. Clients come up with multiple interpretations depending on circumstances and the context in which texts are couched.

Good Lives Samuel Clark, 2021 Samuel Clark explores how we can learn about ourselves by reading, thinking through, and arguing about autobiography. He defends a self-realization account of the self and the good life and argues that self-narration plays less role in our lives than some thinkers have supposed and the development and expression of potential much more.

The Durrells Richard Bradford, 2025-06-05 A variously tragic tale of escapism and assimilation. Richard Bradford's The Durrells explores the truth behind the image. The Durrells are probably the most celebrated literary family of the 20th century. Gerald turned them into celebrities with his tripartite memoir beginning with My Family and Other Animals 1956, which told of his experiences with his widowed mother, Louisa, and three siblings during their time in 1930s Corfu. We know of the Durrells from their own writings and from the image of them created by TV film and biographical accounts of specific figures. What we do not know is the truth. Using previously unpublished material from the Jersey Archive, Richard Bradford unravels the lives of the famous four children of the Corfu era: Larry, Gerry, Margo, and Lesli, as they find themselves geographically and emotionally divided amongst a backdrop of imperial decline and unrest. The children of moneyed colonialists, they were already used to being treated with aghast fascination by the island's locals and by expatriate Britons as a disgrace to the homeland. Yet their story goes beyond the Ionian Sea. The Durrells delves into the complex social and political circumstances in which the family lived with seemingly constant threats of war and endangerment to both themselves and their natural environment.

Introduction to Conservation Genetics Richard Frankham, Jonathan D. Ballou, David Anthony Briscoe, 2010 This impressive author team brings the wealth of advances in conservation genetics into the new edition of this introductory text, including new chapters on population genomics and genetic issues in introduced and invasive species. They continue the strong learning features for students: main points in the margin, chapter summaries, vital support with the mathematics, and further reading, and now guide the reader to software and databases. Many new references reflect the expansion of this field. With examples from mammals, birds, reptiles, fish, amphibians, plants, and invertebrates, this is an ideal introduction to conservation genetics for a broad audience. The text tackles the quantitative aspects of conservation genetics and has a host of pedagogy to support students learning the numerical side of the subject. Combined with being up to date, its user-friendly writing style and first-class illustration programme forms a robust teaching package.

The Many Worlds of Anglophone Literature Silvia Anastasijevic, Magdalena Pfalzgraf, Hanna Teichler, 2024-01-11 On what terms and concepts can we ground the comparative study of Anglophone literatures and cultures around the world today What if anything unites the novels of Witi Ihimaera the speculative fiction of Nnedi Okorafor the life writings by Stuart Hall and the emerging Anglophone Arab literature by writers like Omar Robert Hamilton This volume explores the globality of Anglophone fiction both as a conceptual framing and as a literary imaginary It highlights the diversity of lives and worlds represented in Anglophone writing as well as the diverse imaginations of transnational connections articulated in it Featuring a variety of internationally renowned scholars this book thinks through Anglophone literature not as a problematic legacy of colonial rule or as exoticizing commodity in a global literary marketplace but examines it as an inherently transcultural literary medium Contributors provide new insights into how it facilitates the articulation of divergent experiences of modernity and the critique of hierarchies and inequalities within among and beyond post colonial societies

Zoos and Tourism Warwick Frost, 2011 Zoos are important and popular tourist attractions Spread around the world they are typically located in major cities with visitation levels comparable to other major attractions Nature based attractions constructed in artificial settings they face the challenge of trying to balance potentially conflicting aims of conservation education and entertainment The best are continually developing fresh and effective techniques on visitor interpretation and management the worst highlight the manipulation of animals for human gratification Taking a global approach this book examines the problems and paradoxes of zoos as they try to balance their roles as visitor attractions while repositioning themselves as leading conservation agencies This book provides a detailed and critical examination of the conflicting roles and identities of the modern zoo from a tourism perspective and as such reminds us that zoos are as much about the people who visit them as about the animals that they display At a time when they are under continual critical scrutiny this book delivers a fresh approach to our understanding and appreciation of zoos and of the challenges and opportunities that they face as they strive to remain relevant within modern society Andrew Tribe University of Queensland Australia
